COOLIDGE FIRM ON ENFORCING VOLSTEAD LAW

President Handles Prohibition To Satisfaction Of Wets And Drys

FAVORS CANDID LEGISLATION

Enforcement Of Amendment Is Executive's Aim Rather Than Victory For Teetotalism

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1923 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—President Coolidge is handling the prohibition question with an address which is for the moment not offending the "wet" politicians in his own party nor the Anti-Saloon league.

Mr. Coolidge may never go as far as President Harding in asking the populace to give up drinking from stocks of liquor even though lawfully acquired before the eighteenth amendment was adopted but on the issue of law enforcement he stands foursquare.

For many weeks, friends of Mr. Coolidge have feared that he would unnecessarily identify himself with the "drys" to the extent that Mr. Harding did. The Denver speech of the late president, urging a curb on "lawless drinking" made a hit in the west but made certain Republican leaders in the east rather uneasy. Mr. Coolidge comes from Massachusetts—a wet battleground—where and act to enforce the eighteenth amendment has been passed by the legislature and signed by the governor but will probably be held in abeyance while a petition for a referendum is acted upon by the electorate. The state itself in the last referendum voted against the then pending enforcement acts. In the Coolidge cabinet are such "wets" as Secretary of War Weeks and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. They favor the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, of course, but their leanings are to the enforcement of the law rather than the prohibition of the sale of liquor. The rumor has been current for some time that certain of Mr. Coolidge's advisors hoped he wouldn't emphasize prohibition too much, especially before the 1924 nominating convention and campaign.

FAVORS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Mr. Coolidge's announcement, therefore, that the conference of governors which Mr. Harding originally said he would call would not be limited to prohibition but would embrace other laws such as the enforcement of the narcotic act and the immigration and customs laws, is accepted as meaning that the president would rather appear as the champion of law enforcement in the abstract than the merits of any particular phase of the statute book. Opponents of prohibition, for instance, have criticized the federal government as being too fanatical on the subject of prohibition while other laws were not as scrupulously enforced. Mr. Coolidge's variation of the program to include law enforcement as a whole makes his position impartial as between all laws. Incidentally his newly announced plan is gratifying to the Anti-Saloon league because that organization takes the position that the merits of prohibition are not now up to date but simply whether the federal constitution and laws are to be obeyed.

When the governors of the various states come here, there, Mr. Coolidge is planning to make them cooperate with the federal government on all laws that require concurrent enforcement. Some of the Republican politicians who know that the executive couldn't very well take any other position but that of law enforcement think the sting will not be so deep in eastern states if the conference takes the broad ground of cooperation on law enforcement as a whole.

WETTERS AND WINE

Mr. Coolidge made his record as governor of Massachusetts on a law enforcement issue in the police strike. Similarly he vetoed the bill providing for beer and light wines known as the "2.75 bar bill" in May, 1920. His words then are significant in their possible application to the present situation. He said:

"There is little satisfaction in attempting to deceive ourselves. There is a grave danger in attempting to deceive the people. If this act were placed on the statute books of this commonwealth today it would provide no beer for the people. No one would dare act upon it, or if anyone did he would certainly be charged with crime. Similar laws in other states are to date ineffective. I am opposed to the practice of a legislative deception. It is better to proceed with candor. Wait until the supreme court of the United States talks."

When I took office I gave an oath to support the constitution of the United States that constitution and the laws of congress are declared to be the supreme law of the land. It may be that the eighteenth amendment and the act under it are one or both void. So far as any court has decided I understand the amendment has been sustained. They have

No Excuse For Wreck Of 7 Ships

By Associated Press
Washington—Admiral Cointe, commanding the United States fleet, reported to the navy department that no adequate explanation had been given for the unusual position of the seven American destroyers when they were wrecked on the California coast Saturday night. He declared the squadron was far off its prescribed course and was steaming in a fog at 20 knots.

Officials in charge of the inquiry have been ordered by the department to expedite any information bearing on the cause of the disaster, without waiting for completion of the investigating board's report. Secretary Denby was said to feel that the unusual features of the case necessitated special action.

BADGER TAXES ARE CUT BY $1,000,000 LAST FISCAL YEAR

Instead Of $35,000,00 As Reported, Government Cost Is $14,000,000

By Associated Press
Madison—A slight reduction in the total taxes collected in Wisconsin from all sources during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, is to be shown by compilations of the state tax commission, according to T. E. Lyons, chairman of the commission. The expected reduction, amounting to approximately $1,000,000 is attributable to lower returns from the income tax, Mr. Lyons said.

The tax commission, the only state department to attempt to show the actual cost of state government to the taxpayers, finds that instead of being a burden of $35,000,000 annually for supporting their state government as reported from some sources, the people are paying less than $14,000,000.

This figure is arrived at through elimination of state aid and agency transactions that involve no state expense. According to tax commission figures, the total general property taxes in Wisconsin for the past fiscal year will total approximately $95,000,000, with income and other taxes bringing the grand total for state, county, local, and school purposes to nearly $117,000,000.

Tax commission figures for the past year are expected to show that only slightly over 11 per cent of total taxes are for state purposes, while 21 per cent are for county purposes, 37 per cent for local purposes and 31 per cent for schools.

WHIPPING VICTIMS IDENTIFY FLOGGER

Macon Dentist Recognized As Member Of Mob By Three Men He Assaulted

By Associated Press
Macon, Ga.—An early ending of the trial of Dr. C. A. Tarborough, dentist, charged with rioting in connection with the whipping on Jan. 13, and Nov. 4, 1922, of R. F. Mills, former Macon chiropractor, was hoped for by attorneys and attaches of the city court here Thursday when the third day of the trial was started. There was some doubt, however, as to whether the case would reach the jury by time for adjournment Thursday evening, although City Solicitor Roy W. Moore said that he hoped to give the case to the jury during the afternoon. Defense attorneys said they might not be able to finish during the day.

Identification of Dr. Tarborough as a prominent member of the whipping parties during the past twenty months continued Wednesday when W. O. Barnett, W. W. Arnold and R. A. Hartley, all of whom have been whipped or "talked to" by floggers during that period, pointed out the dentist as having been a member of the crowds that "rock them out."

MARINETTE MAN GETS 60 DAYS FOR ROBBERY

By Associated Press
Wausau—Fred Lehman of Marinette Thursday in circuit court pleaded guilty to burglarizing the saloon of Joe Semling at Merrill and was given 60 days in Lincoln county jail. He will be employed during the day time, spend his nights and leisure time in the county jail, and earnings will go to the county treasury.

JUDGE GRAASS DENIES WRIT IN HOTEL CASE

Refuses Injunction To Prevent Northland Hotel From Adding Tenth Story

A new court decision will be added to the arguments as to the right of the state to regulate the height of buildings, following the refusal of Judge Henry Graass to grant an injunction restraining the Northland Hotel company of Green Bay from adding a tenth story to its new building under construction there.

Judge Graass heard arguments Tuesday at Green Bay by Robert M. Reiser, deputy attorney general, and attorneys of the hotel company, and announced his decision Thursday.

The decision declared the demurrer overruled and said the court refused to grant the injunction, believing such a step invalid and unconstitutional.

Judge Graass declared that the state law as now constituted curtails the rights of property owners. The measure provides that buildings shall be no higher than 100 feet except in Milwaukee, where the limit is 125 feet. Title to property under the law is given "to the sky" and a law such as this one therefore abridges this right, the decision says.

It is found also that the distinction as to what buildings may go higher, under the law, is arbitrary. It names only grain or coal elevators, sugar refineries and cement works. Judge Graass argues that stone quarries, malting houses, and mining shafts necessarily must be built higher at times, and cites this as proof that the law is arbitrary.

Under these and other circumstances named, it is ruled that by allowing Milwaukee a height of 125 feet and other cities 100, property rights in Green Bay are curtailed. This act takes value from local property, whereas it does not do so in Milwaukee. Inequality of protection under the law thus is established.

The classification of cities, judging from the situation in some places, is too narrow for a law of this kind, says the decision.

Answering the state's claim that health is impaired by high buildings, this would apply more to Milwaukee and to the city of St. Louis, says the decision, as there is congestion not found in smaller cities.

The decision is of interest to Appleton because of the plan of a bank to erect a building of six stories here.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE DRAFTS PEACE PACT

First Article Of Proposed Instrument Contains Condemnation Of War

By Associated Press
Geneva—The first article of a proposed treaty of mutual assistance, which has been agreed on by a league of nations subcommittee, constitutes a solemn declaration by the high contracting parties that aggressive war is an international crime; and they severally undertake that no one of them will be guilty of committing it.

The preamble of the pact, which has also been accepted by the commission, declares that the treaty is based on a desire to facilitate the application of article ten of the league covenant, concerning the maintenance of the territorial integrity of the nations, and to secure the "indispensable limitation of armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety. International obligations would be enforced by common action.

LAWYERS TEST POWER OF GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA

By Associated Press
Oklahoma City, Okla.—In an effort to test Governor Walton's suspension of the right of recourse to the writ of habeas corpus in Tulsa, Okla., attorneys have filed in the state supreme court an application for release of two men now reported held by the military authorities at Tulsa. It became known Thursday.

ASSEMBLYMAN LINDAHL VISITS STATE'S CHIEF

By Associated Press
Madison—Assemblyman Sixtus Lindaahl, Superior, was in Madison Thursday and called early at Governor Blaine's office. The report has come from a number of sources that Assemblyman Lindaahl is being considered by Governor Blaine for appointment to the Wisconsin Grain and Warehouse commission.

Nation In Torment Is Calling For Pittance

As an army of thousands of rescuers digs into the devastated cities of Yokohama and Tokio and sees the actual scope of death, sickness, torture and starvation there goes out a more animated cry for food, clothing, medical aid and other forms of relief for the Japanese multitude.

Outagamie-co responded liberally at first to the American Red Cross appeal for $5,000,000 and there seems to have been a feeling that the task is accomplished with the contribution of $637,50, the amount recorded to date.

But the revelation of what the earthquake, tidal wave and conflagration left in its wake has caused the cry to go up from the stricken nation for more assistance. The Red Cross will need a greater sum than that first asked in order to keep thousands from perishing.

Outagamie county's quota is set at $2,500 and Appleton ought to furnish at least $1,000 of that amount. There is room for much more giving, in liberal amounts and speedily. Your checks or cash gifts deposited with the chamber of commerce or the Post-Crescent will be remitted with rapidity to the Red Cross. You may help save lives if you will give to this fund, even though you cannot afford much.

Year's First Snow Falls In Gopher State

By Associated Press
Chicago—Snow and killing frosts Thursday sent the north and west to donning overcoats, while portions of the central states shivered as the area of low temperatures spread.

Frosts were felt throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas Wednesday night but the extent of damage to crops, if any, was not determined.

Michigan and Minnesota saw the first snow of the season Wednesday. At Calumet, Mich., cold winds off Lake Superior brought snow that continued to fall for a half hour and at Marquette reports were received of a brief snow fall at Ishpeming.

SWISS MEDIATION REFUSED BY ITALY

Rome Notifies Confederation Of Decision In Fiume Question

By Associated Press
Geneva—Italy has notified Switzerland that she cannot accept the designation of the Swiss president as arbitrator of her dispute with Jugo-Slavia over Fiume, believing such a step might unfavorably affect the pleasant relations between Italy and the Swiss confederation.

Inasmuch as the Jugo-Slav leaders say they have no intention of submitting the controversy to the league, the impression here is that it must be settled by direct negotiations.

PERSHING ROUNDS SIXTY THIRD YEAR

By Associated Press
Washington—John J. Pershing, Thursday celebrated his sixty third birthday. He began his last year of active service to which his life has been devoted, at his desk in the war department, performing the triple duties of acting secretary of war, general of the armies, and chief of staff.

A year from Thursday, which is also the anniversary of the opening of the battle of St. Mihiel, the man who commanded the American army then in its first great drive against the German line in France, will pass automatically to the retired list.

Before the general's desk stands a great map of the United States covered over with markings showing the distribution and organization of the new army of the United States that has been created out of the leucos learned through the struggle in France.

COOPERATION IS AIM OF MICHIGAN SCHOOL REGENT

By Associated Press
Ann Arbor, Mich.—Fifty universities and colleges of the United States have been invited by Junius B. Beal, regent of the University of Michigan, to have representatives of their governing boards meet in Chicago, Nov. 12-13, to discuss organization of an association to act upon mutual problems of finance, alumni cooperation and faculty efficiency.

Initiation of this movement followed inauguration two years ago of Marion Leroy Burton as president of the University of Michigan. Fifteen educational institutions already have promised to have a representative at the Chicago conference.

Airman Seeks New Non-Stop Trip Record

By Associated Press
Houston, Tex.—Parker D. Cramer hopped off at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning at Ellington field, near here, in an attempt to shatter the Gulf to Canada non-stop flight record, made recently by Lieutenant Scotty Crocker.

Cramer's plane, a Pigny machine, is loaded with 700 pounds of excess weight. His destination is Clarion, Pa., 75 miles north of Philadelphia and about 1,225 miles from Houston on an air line.

The flight was started with 172 gallons of gas and ten gallons of reserve oil.

G. O. P. TO DISCUSS AFFAIRS OF PARTY

National Republican Chairman And Leaders Of Seven States Will Meet

By Associated Press
Minneapolis—Republican leaders from seven states and John T. Adams, national chairman of the Republican party, have been invited to meet in St. Paul early next week to discuss party affairs in the northwest. It was announced here Thursday by Irving A. Caswell, national committeeman from Minnesota.

State chairmen and members of the Republican national committee from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, Nebraska and Montana, have been asked to attend.

The conference will be to permit the national chairman to acquaint himself with conditions within the party in the northwest," Mr. Caswell said. "It is not in the interest of any candidate for the party's nomination for the presidency in 1924. Get together and talk it over" will be the purpose of the meeting.

MINE UNION SUES SENATOR BROOKHART FOR DAMAGES

Springfield, Ill.—John Watt, secretary of the local sub-district, United Mine Workers of America, announced Thursday he had instructed his attorney, Morris Hillequist of New York to file suit for damages of $10,000 against Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa and the Thomas Brady booking agency of New York arising out of the senator's refusal to speak here Labor day at the United Mine Workers' celebration.

Fight Party Tomorrow

Because of the requests for early return on the Dempsey-Frigo heavyweight championship fight Friday evening at the Polo Grounds, New York City, the Post-Crescent has decided to hold a "fight party" for its readers. The fight returns, round by round, will be announced to the public beginning at 8 o'clock, in front of the Post-Crescent building. Fight results will be recorded over the Associated Press wire and will be transmitted to the listeners by the use of Irving Zuck's magnavox. Everybody interested in the fight is invited to be on hand.

GERMANY READY TO GIVE PLEDGE ON REPARATION

Stresemann Tells German Editors Government Prepared To Enlist Aid

RESISTANCE NO SOLUTION

Le Matin Says French Will Not Evacuate Occupied Mining District

By Associated Press
Berlin—Germany is prepared to enlist private property in industry, commerce, finance and agriculture as a pledge for the payment of her reparation obligations if she is assured that the Ruhr and Rhineland will be restored, Chancellor Stresemann told German editors Wednesday.

"These guarantees," he said, "are capable of solving the question of passive resistance, provided assurance is given us that on the basis of such an understanding the Ruhr will be evacuated and the Rhineland restored to its former status."

He admitted passive resistance did not offer a solution of the Ruhr question.

Proposing an international trusteeship for the administration of the proposed nation-wide hypothecation of resources, the chancellor said that the proceeds accruing from the mortgages would be paid to the trustees who would include representatives of the reparation creditors. This body would then be able to issue bonds, thus making it possible for France to receive large sums of money immediately.

PARIS FAVORABLY IMPRESSED

Paris—Chancellor Stresemann's reply to Premier Poincare's last speech has made a not unfavorable impression here, although in the absence of a fuller report, extended comment is reserved.

Le Matin, generally understood to be close to Poincare, considers that the German chancellor has taken a step forward, without, however, succeeding in ridding himself of the false ideas that an application of his sentence, mortgages on private property would be sufficient to justify evacuation of the Ruhr.

The French government, it adds, stands by its position, which is unsalable. France may, of course, Le Matin concludes modify her regime in the Ruhr if Germany sets about paying but she will not evacuate the territory except in proportions as payments are made.

ASSEMBLYMAN FROM GREEN BAY IS DEAD

James T. Oliver, 74, Dies Suddenly At Home Of His Son

By Associated Press
Green Bay—James T. Oliver, 74, assemblyman from the first district, died here Wednesday night at the home of his son, Dr. T. J. Oliver, after an illness of a few hours. Death was due to angina pectoris.

Mr. Oliver suffered a heart attack while seated before the fire and his son, a doctor, gave him medical aid, which revived him for several minutes.

The late assemblyman was born in Yorkshire, England, Aug. 18, 1849, and came to America in 1868.

Although taking an interest in political affairs, he held no offices of any kind until elected to the assembly in 1920. He was reelected in 1922.

CIVIL WAR VET, 80, MAKES FIFTH MARRIAGE

Conscience Of Burglar Leads To Confession

By Associated Press
Grand Island, Neb.—"You want to catch a burglar?" George Gardner, 19, early Wednesday morning walked into the police station here and addressed this question to the desk sergeant.

"That's my business," the officer replied, glancing up at the youth in puzzlement.

"Well, here I am. I burglarized a store in Waterloo, Ia., a few days ago and it has bothered me ever since." Gardner is being held awaiting investigation.

COMMANDER OF U. S. VESSEL DESCRIBES YOKOHAMA HORRORS

American Shipping Board Vessel, President Jefferson, Takes Off Victims

Seattle—Flames lighting up the sky for many miles as Yokohama burned, gave those on the shipping board liner President Jefferson their first intimation of the extent of the Japanese disaster as the vessel approached Tokio bay the night of Sept. 2, according to a radio message from Captain Francis R. Nichols in command of the liner. The story as told in the message of Captain Nichols follows:

"The President Jefferson was en route to Shimizu from Kobe Sept. 1, and about 11 o'clock we received a radio from the Osaka mainland station that communication with Yokohama had been broken. They intimated that an earthquake and possibly some great disaster had overtaken that section and requested further information.

"We began calling Yokohama by radio and other stations and ships, but received no answer, although we continued this all night.

"As we were approaching Yokohama on the night of Sept. 2, we observed the sky was red extending for many miles over Yokohama and the entire peninsula and far to the south. The lights were not burning on the breakwater but we entered Tokio bay by moonlight. Yokohama was a seething mass of flames. It was then we saw the first real information of the great catastrophe that has stricken that section.

"We immediately launched our life boats and began rescue work and the harbor was one scene of pandemonium as the hundreds, yes, thousands of small craft carried on their work of taking those alive to the ships.

"With only 30 hours water on board, we had planned to take water at Yokohama. We returned to Kobe, carrying many refugees as we could handle. Many needed medical attention, which was given them by our ship's surgeon.

"We received refugees from many of the ships in the harbor and then returned to Kobe with a capacity load. Our life boats being pressed into service, and all our crew was busy for hours in the relief work.

"THOUSANDS WOUNDED
"It was pitiable to see the thousands of injured and wounded, many being so badly burned that we could not assist them. The scene was one of indescribable horrors. Hundreds of stretcher cases were on board our ships—many had been separated from their loved ones whose fate was not known—and practically all homeless and penniless.

The passengers and crew furnished them with every available bit of clothing we had to spare as we were enroute to Kobe.

"Searching parties were combing the beaches for injured, and the wreckage was strewn along the shore as a result of the great tidal wave. Some few buildings were still standing but blackened ruins were practically all that was left of a once proud and prosperous city.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED

Army officers at Barcelona have revoked martial law here and been declared. The rank and file of the army have joined the revolt but the navy personnel is quiet.

It is reported that Santiago Alba, the minister of foreign affairs is under arrest at San Sebastian.

A communique issued by the military says proceedings will be brought against the minister of foreign affairs and the president of the council (the premier) and that a government will be established under military authorities.

The movement, the communique declares, is loyal to the king, being directed not against the sovereign but the government.

The actual beginning of the revolt occurred when General Llanusa under orders from Captain General Primo

Red Cross Branches Can Swell Japanese Relief Fund From Treasuries

Ellington branch of the American Red Cross is the first to contribute as an organization of that nature to the Japanese Relief fund. It is the suggestion of the relief committee that other chapters having funds on hand do likewise, because it is the American Red Cross that is raising $5,000,000 at the request of President Calvin Coolidge for the salvation of thousands who are sick, starving and homeless as the result of the awful catastrophe in the orient.

Almost all of the contributions thus far have come from the city of Appleton, although it is possible that other places are raising relief funds which are being sent direct.

The AUTUMN EXPOSITION

New Shoes

in the Footwear Salon
The Footwear Salon, on second floor, has a special service for Pettibone customers. Special selections of footwear will now be brought to apparel fitting rooms—to be seen with your new gown.

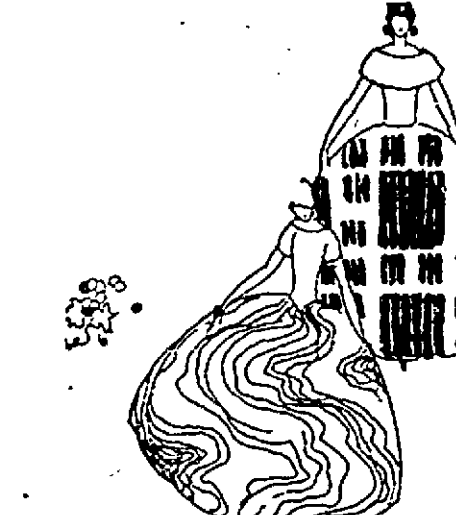

Mr. Beer has secured the finest styles of the season. There are unusual sport oxfords—trimmed with alligator, for example. Dress shoes with the smartest trimming, and the most exquisite of evening styles are shown. Footwear has very nearly approached the jeweler's art this season.

New Hats

Favor New Colors

The hats for Fall are especially lovely. One group appears in the smart bottle green. Ostrich feathers are again popular for trimming. Shades of brown, of tan, of grey, are good.

The matronly woman will be interested in large groups of hats designed for her. Another section of the millinery department is filled with hats from Mathilde—for bobbed hair girls!

New Silks

Are Gorgeous in Weave and Color

Exceeding richness of texture is the feature of fabrics designed for the finer gowns. Velvets have been approved by Fashion. Many of the new evening gowns have rhinestones scattered over a velvet background.

The silk section is displaying rich new weaves from Mallingon—Chim Ring is a lovely creation.

Printed crepes continue fashionable. Several of the foremost silk manufacturers have introduced new designs that are now on display. The patterns are intended for the new silhouette of Fall.

Costume Jewelry for Autumn's Demand

Jewelry is a very necessary accessory of dress this season. Many fashion authorities even go so far as to ordain the necklaces most suited to certain colors.

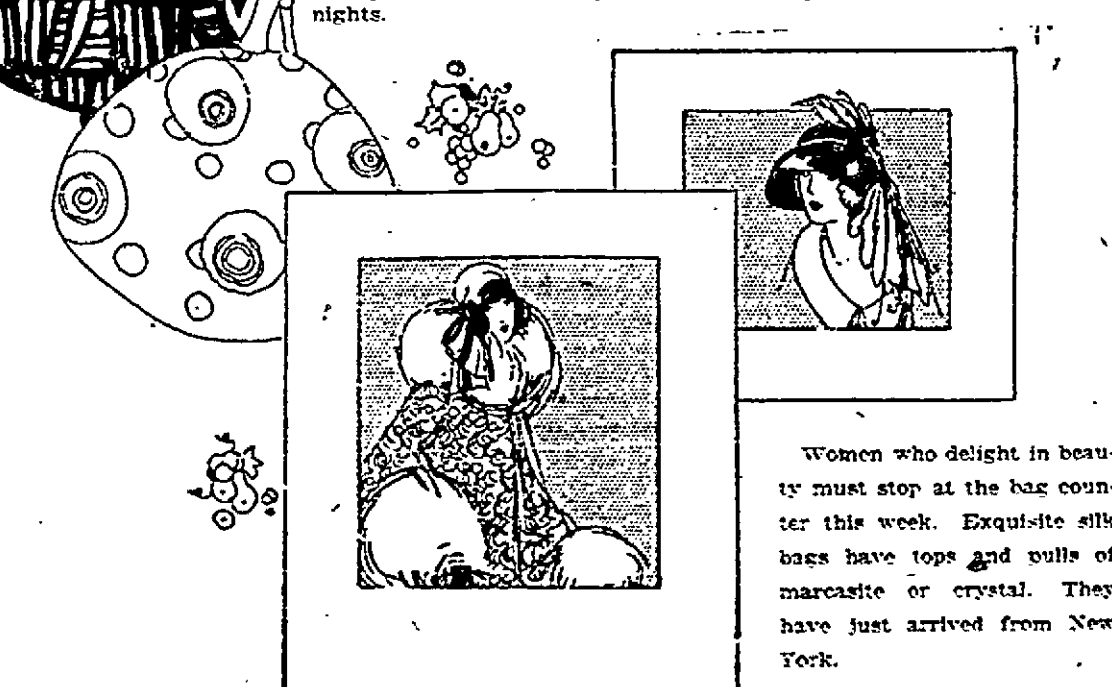

One such authority says that apparel heads should always be worn with black. Naturally, lovely necklaces have been designed in answer to these demands.

Far rings are immensely popular—the styles for Fall are longer than before. These new designs are called "Crocus" styles.

The Style Revue

PETTIBONE'S joins with the other co-operating merchants of the Style Revue to invite your attendance to this production. The Fashion Pageant and Style Revue has come to be a community presentation—drawing hundreds of spectators from surrounding cities. The performances take place at 8:15 tonight, tomorrow and Friday nights.

Women who delight in beauty must stop at the bag counter this week. Exquisite silk bags have tops and vults of marcasite or crystal. They have just arrived from New York.

A NEW STORE

Is Now Ready For The New Season

THE STORE has undergone great changes in the past few weeks. The change in footware fashions has demanded that fine shoes be shown in connection with gowns. To make this possible—the shoe section has been moved to second floor. The blouse section now has specially-built cabinets in a cosy corner by the great windows at the front of this floor. The complete second floor now offers the complete range of women's outer garments.

On the Fourth Floor—the grey shops have been extended down the west side. The corsets now are placed in one section of these shops. Fine lingerie is shown in the adjoining section. The infants' stocks are also in the grey rooms.

On First Floor—the art section, the lamp shade department from third floor, and the Gift Shop from the Basement have been combined into one Art Corner. These, and other changes, make Pettibone's a wonderful new shopping place for Fall.

New Frocks

in Exclusive Styles
as Low as $39.75

The new sleeves, the new skirts, the new flounces, the new cascades are all here in the Autumn dresses. Our New York office has made permanent connections with a firm specializing in copying Parisian frocks. This connection brings many remarkable styles at surprisingly low prices. A large group of these very desirable frocks are only $39.75.

Sport Coats

in Plaids or Stripes
and Fur Collars

Soft materials of Camel's Hair or Kashia weaves are shown in the new sport coats. These coats are straight in line—and invariably have wonderful fur collars.

Red fox is a much favored fur for this use—and combines well with the colorful stripes and plaids in vogue. These coats have many uses—and come as low as $55.

Dress Coats

Follow the Most Novel
Lines and Colorings

Fall has one strict rule—all apparel must be straight. The coats for dress wear are exception to the rule. Many of them have flares and flounces, after the manner of the dresses.

There are lovely new shades—Bunny brown, Kilt Fox grey, and others. Furs are lavishly used with rich effect. Luxurious dress coats are shown at $55, and upwards.

Blouses

Have a New Shop

The blouse section is one of the new improvements of the Second Floor. In the new cases are wonderful new blouses. Here are the new sleeves—the new Turkish embroidered—the new colors.

Corsets

Arrive in the Newest of Autumn Stylings

The new corsets from Rodern, Madame Lyrre and Modart are here. New styles from Modart are an interesting feature. These new styles range from $5 to $14. Practical Front styles are $2.50 and $3.75.

COOLIDGE FIRM ON ENFORCING VOLSTEAD LAW

President Handles Prohibition
To Satisfaction Of Wets
And Drys

FAVORS CANDID LEGISLATION

Enforcement Of Amendment Is Executive's Aim Rather Than
Victory For Teetotalism

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Copyright, 1923 by The Post Pub. Co.

Washington—President Coolidge is handling the prohibition question with an adroitness which is for the moment not offending the "wet" politicians in his own party nor the Anti-Saloon league.

Mr. Coolidge may never go as far as did President Harding in asking the populace to give up drinking from stocks of liquor even though lawfully acquired before the eighteenth amendment was adopted but on the issue of law enforcement he stands foursquare.

For many weeks, friends of Mr. Coolidge have feared that he would unnecessarily identify himself with the "drys" to the extent that Mr. Harding did. The Denver speech of the late president, urging a curb on "lawless drinking," made a hit in the west but made certain Republican leaders in the east uneasy. Mr. Coolidge comes from Massachusetts—a wet battleground—where and act to enforce the eighteenth amendment has been passed by the legislature and signed by the governor but will probably be held in abeyance until a petition for a referendum is acted upon by the electors. The state itself in the last referendum voted against the prohibition amendment. In the Coolidge cabinet are such "wets" as Secretary of War Weeks and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. They favor the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment, of course, but their leanings are to the wet side of the controversy. The rumor has been current for some time that certain of Mr. Coolidge's advisers hoped he wouldn't emphasize prohibition too much, especially before the 1924 nominating convention and campaign.

FAVORS LAW ENFORCEMENT

Mr. Coolidge's announcement, therefore, that the conference of governors which Mr. Harding originally said he would call would not be limited to prohibition but would embrace other laws such as the immigration and customs act, is accepted as meaning that the president would rather appear as the champion of law enforcement in the abstract than the merits of any particular phase of the statute book. Opponents of prohibition, for instance, have criticized the federal government as being too fanatic on the subject of prohibition while other laws were not as scrupulously enforced. Mr. Coolidge's variation of the program to include law enforcement as a whole makes his position impartial as between all laws. Incidentally his newly announced plan is gratifying to the Anti-Saloon league because that organization takes the position that the merits of prohibition are not now up to date but simply whether the federal constitution and laws are to be obeyed.

When the governors of the various states come here, therefore, Mr. Coolidge will plead with them for cooperation with the federal government on all laws that require consistent enforcement. Some of the Republican politicians who know that the executive couldn't very well take any other position but that of law enforcement think the thing will not be so deep in eastern states if the conference takes the broad ground of cooperation on law enforcement as a whole.

TEVORE BEEN AND WINE

Mr. Coolidge made his record as governor of Massachusetts on a law enforcement issue in the police strike. Similarly he vetoed the bill providing for beer and light wines known as the "2.75 beer bill" in May, 1920. His words then are significant in their possible application to the present situation. He said:

"There is no satisfaction in attempting to deceive ourselves. There is grave danger in attempting to deceive the people. If this act were placed on the statute books of this commonwealth today it would provide no beer for the people. No one would dare act upon it, or if anyone did he would certainly be charged with crime. Similar laws in other states are to date ineffective. It is opposed to the practice of a legislative deception. It is better to proceed with candor. Wait until the supreme court of the United States talks."

When I took office I gave an oath to support the constitution of the United States that constitution and the laws of congress are declared to be the supreme law of the land. It may be that the eighteenth amendment and the act under it are one or both void. So far as any court has decided I understand the amendment has been sustained. They have

No Excuse For Wreck Of 7 Ships

By Associated Press

Washington—Admiral Coots, commanding the United States fleet, reported to the navy department that no adequate explanation had been given for the unusual position of the seven American destroyers when they were wrecked on the California coast Saturday night. He declared the course was far off its prescribed course and was steaming in a fog at 20 knots.

Officials in charge of the inquiry have been ordered by the department to expedite any information bearing on the cause of the disaster, without waiting for completion of the investigating board's report. Secretary Denby was said to feel that the unusual features of the case necessitated special action.

BADGER TAXES ARE CUT BY $1,000,000 LAST FISCAL YEAR

Instead Of $35,000,00 As Reported, Government Cost Is $14,000,000

By Associated Press

Madison—A slight reduction in the total taxes collected in Wisconsin from all sources during the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, is to be shown by compilations of the state tax commission, according to T. E. Lyons, chairman of the commission. The expected reduction, amounting to approximately $1,000,000 is attributable to lower returns from the income tax, Mr. Lyons said.

The tax commission, the only state department to attempt to show the actual cost of state government to the taxpayers, finds that instead of bearing a burden of $35,000,000 annually for supporting their state government as reported from some sources, people are paying less than $14,000,000.

This figure is arrived at through elimination of state aid and agency transactions that involve no state expense. According to tax commission figures, the total general purpose taxes in Wisconsin for the past fiscal year will total approximately $95,000,000, with income and other taxes bringing the grand total for state, county, local and school purposes to nearly $117,000,000.

Tax commission figures for the past year are expected to show that only slightly over 11 per cent of total taxes are for state purposes, while 21 per cent are for county purposes, 37 per cent for local purposes and 31 per cent for schools.

WHIPPING VICTIMS IDENTIFY FLOGGER

Macon Dentist Recognized As Member Of Mob By Three Men He Assaulted

By Associated Press

Macon, Ga.—An early ending of the trial of Dr. C. A. Tarborough, dentist, charged with rioting in connection with the whipping on Jan. 13, at Nov. 4, 1922, of R. F. Mills, forms, Macon chiropractor, was hoped for by attorneys and attaches of the city court here Thursday when the third day of the trial was started. There was some doubt, however, as to whether the case would reach the jury by time for adjournment Thursday evening, although City Solicitor Roy W. Moore said that he hoped to give the case to the jury during the afternoon. Defense attorneys said they might not be able to finish during the day.

Identification of Dr. Tarborough as a prominent member of the whipping parties during the past twenty months continued Wednesday when W. O. Barnett, W. W. Arnold and R. A. Hartley, all of whom have been whipped or "talked to" by floggers during that period, pointed out the dentist as having been a member of the crowds that "took them out."

MARINETTE MAN GETS
60 DAYS FOR ROBBERY

By Associated Press

Wausau—Fred Lehman of Marinette Thursday in circuit court pleaded guilty to burglarizing the saloon of Joe Semling at Merrill and was given 60 days in Lincoln county jail. He will be employed during the day time, spend his nights and leisure time in the county jail, and earnings will go to the county treasury.

JUDGE GRAASS DENIES WRIT IN HOTEL CASE

Refuses Injunction To Prevent Northland Hotel From Adding Tenth Story

By Associated Press

A new court decision will be added to the arguments as to the right of the state to regulate the height of buildings, following the refusal of Judge Henry Graass to grant an injunction restraining the Northland Hotel company of Green Bay from adding a tenth story to its new building under construction there.

Judge Graass heard arguments Tuesday at Green Bay by Robert M. Reiser, deputy attorney general, and attorneys of the hotel company, and announced his decision Thursday.

The decision declared the demurrer overruled and said the court refused to grant the injunction, believing such a step invalid and unconstitutional.

Judge Graass declared that the state law as now constituted curtails the rights of property owners. The measure provides that buildings shall be no higher than 100 feet except in Milwaukee, where the limit is 125 feet. Title to property under the law is given "to the sky" and a law such as this one therefore abridges this right, the decision says.

It is found also that the distinction as to what buildings may go higher, under the law, is arbitrary. It names only grain or coal elevators, sugar granaries and cement works. Judge Graass argues that stone quarries, mauling houses and mining shafts necessarily must be built higher at times, and cites this as proof that the law is arbitrary.

Under these and other circumstances named, it is ruled that by allowing Milwaukee a height of 125 feet and other cities 100, property rights in Green Bay are curtailed. This act takes value from local property, whereas it does not do so in Milwaukee. Inequality of protection under the law thus is established.

The classification of cities, judging from the situation in some places, is too narrow for a law of this kind, says the decision.

Answering the state's claim that health is impaired by high buildings, this would apply more to Milwaukee than Green Bay, the writ says, as there is congestion not found in smaller cities.

The decision is of interest to Appleton because of the plan of a bank to erect a building of six stories here.

LEAGUE COMMITTEE DRAFTS PEACE PACT

First Article Of Proposed Instrument Contains Condemnation Of War

By Associated Press

Geneva—The first article of a proposed treaty of mutual assistance, which has been agreed on by a league of nations subcommittee, constitutes a solemn declaration by the high contracting parties that aggressive war is an international crime; and they severally undertake that no one of them will be guilty of committing it.

The preamble of the pact, which has also been accepted by the commission, declares that the treaty is based on a desire to facilitate the application of article ten of the league covenant, concerning the maintenance of the territorial integrity of the nations, and to secure the reduction of limitations of armaments to the lowest point, consistent with national safety. International obligations would be enforced by common action.

LAWYERS TEST POWER OF

By Associated Press

Oklahoma City—In an effort to test Governor Walton's suspension of the right of recourse to the writ of habeas corpus in Tulsa, attorneys have filed in the state supreme court an application for release of two men now reported held by the military authorities at Tulsa. It became known Thursday.

ASSEMBLYMAN LINDAHL
VISITS STATE'S CHIEF

By Associated Press

Madison—Assemblyman Silas Lindahl, Superior, was in Madison Thursday and called early at Governor Blaine's office. The report has come from a number of sources that Assemblyman Lindahl is being considered by Governor Blaine for appointment to the Wisconsin Grain and Warehouse commission.

Nation In Torment Is Calling For Pittance

As an army of thousands of rescuers digs into the devastated cities of Yokohama and Tokio and sees the actual scope of death, sickness, torture and starvation there goes out a more animated cry for food, clothing, medical aid and other forms of relief for the Japanese multitude.

Outagamie-co responded liberally at first to the American Red Cross appeal for $5,000,000 and there seems to have been a feeling that the task is accomplished with the contribution of $637,500, the amount recorded to date.

But the revelation of what the earthquake, tidal wave and conflagration left in its wake has caused the cry to go up from the stricken nation for more assistance. The Red Cross will send a greater sum than that first asked in order to keep thousands from perishing.

Outagamie county's quota is set at $2,500 and Appleton ought to furnish at least $1,000 of that amount. There is room for much more giving, in liberal amounts and speedily. Your checks or cash gifts deposited with the chamber of commerce or the Post-Crescent will be remitted with rapidity to the Red Cross. You may help save lives if you will give to this fund, even though you cannot afford much.

Year's First Snow Falls In Gopher State

By Associated Press

Chicago—Snow and killing frosts Thursday sent the north and west to donning overcoats, while portions of the central states shivered as the area of low temperatures spread. Frosts were felt throughout Minnesota and the Dakotas Wednesday night but the extent of damage to crops if any was not determined.

Michigan and Minnesota saw the first snow of the season Wednesday. At Calumet, Mich., cold winds off Lake Superior brought snow that continued to fall for a half hour and at Marquette reports were received of a brief snow fall at Ishpeming.

SWISS MEDIATION REFUSED BY ITALY

Rome Notifies Confederation Of

Question

By Associated Press

Geneva—Italy has notified Switzerland that she cannot accept the designation of the Swiss president as arbitrator of her dispute with Jugo-Slavia over Fiume, believing such a step might unfavorably affect the pleasant relations between Italy and the Swiss confederation.

Inasmuch as the Jugo-Slav leaders say they have no intention of submitting the controversy to the league, the impression here is that it must be settled by direct negotiations.

PERSHING ROUNDS SIXTY THIRD YEAR

By Associated Press

Washington—John J. Pershing, Thursday celebrated his sixty-third birthday. He began his last year of active service to which his life has been devoted, at his desk in the war department performing the triple duties of acting secretary of war, general of the armies, and chief of staff.

A year from Thursday, which is also the anniversary of the opening of the battle of St. Mihiel, the man who commanded the American army then in its first great drive against the German lines in France, will pass automatically to the retired list.

Before the general's desk stands a great map of the United States covered over with markings showing the distribution and organization of the new army of the United States that has been created out of the lessons learned through the struggle in France.

COOPERATION IS AIM OF MICHIGAN SCHOOL REGENT

By Associated Press

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Fifty universities and colleges of the United States have been invited by Julius Reel, regent of the University of Michigan to have representatives of their governing boards meet in Chicago, Nov. 12, to discuss organization of an association to act upon mutual problems of finance, alumni cooperation and faculty efficiency.

Initiation of this movement followed inauguration two years ago of Marion Leroy Burton as president of the University of Michigan. Fifteen educational institutions already have promised to have a representative at the Chicago conference.

Airman Seeks New Non-Stop Trip Record

By Associated Press

Houston, Tex.—Parker D. Cramer hopped off at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning at Ellington field, near here, in an attempt to shatter the Gulf to Canada non-stop flight record, made recently by Lieutenant Scotty Crocker.

Cramer's plane, a Pigma machine, is loaded with 700 pounds of excess weight. His destination is Clarion, Pa., 75 miles north of Philadelphia and about 1,225 miles from Houston on an air line.

The flight was started with 172 gallons of gas and ten gallons of reserve oil.

G. O. P. TO DISCUSS AFFAIRS OF PARTY

National Republican Chairman
And Leaders Of Seven
States Will Meet

By Associated Press

Minneapolis—Republican leaders from seven states and John T. Adams, national chairman of the Republican party, have been invited to meet in St. Paul early next week to discuss party affairs in the northwest. It was announced here Thursday by Irving A. Caswell, national committeeman from Minnesota.

State chairmen and members of the Republican national committee from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, Nebraska and Montana, have been asked to attend.

"The conference will be to permit the national chairman to acquaint himself with conditions within the party in the northwest," Mr. Caswell said. "It is not in the interest of any candidate for the party's nomination for the presidency in 1924. Get together and talk it over" will be the purpose of the meeting.

MINE UNION SUES SENATOR BROOKHART FOR DAMAGES

By Associated Press

Springfield, Ill.—John Watt, secretary of the local sub-district, United Mine Workers of America, announced Thursday he had instructed his attorney, Morris Hillquist of New York to file suit for damages of $10,000 against Senator Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa and the Thomas Brady bookkeeping agency of New York arising out of the senator's refusal to speak here Labor day at the United Mine Workers' celebration.

Fight Party Tomorrow

Because of the requests for early return on the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship fight Friday evening at the Polo Grounds, New York City, the Post-Crescent has decided to hold a "fight party" for its readers.

The fight returns, round by round, will be announced to the public beginning at 8 o'clock, in front of the Post-Crescent building. Fight results will be re-retained over the Associated Press wire and will be transmitted to the listeners by the use of Irving Zuelke's magnifying. Everybody interested in the fight is invited to be on hand.

GERMANY READY TO GIVE PLEDGE ON REPARATION

Stresemann Tells German Editors
Government Prepared
To Enlist Aid

RESISTANCE NO SOLUTION

Le Matin Says French Will Not
Evacuate Occupied Mining District

By Associated Press

Berlin—Germany is prepared to enlist private property in industry, commerce, finance and agriculture as a pledge for the payment of her reparation obligation if she is assured that the Ruhr and Rhineland will be restored, Chancellor Stresemann told German editors Wednesday.

"These guarantees," he said, "are capable of solving the question of passive resistance, provided assurance is given us that on the basis of such an understanding the Ruhr will be evacuated and the Rhineland restored to its former status."

He admitted passive resistance did not offer a solution of the Ruhr question. Proposing an international trusteeship for the administration of the proposed nation-wide hypothecation of resources, the chancellor said that the proceeds accruing from the mortgages would be paid to the trustees who would include representatives of the reparation creditors. This body would then be able to issue bonds, thus making it possible for France to receive large sums of money immediately.

PARIS FAVORABLY IMPRESSED

Paris—Chancellor Stresemann's reply to Premier Poincare's last speech has made not unfavorable impression here, although in the absence of a fuller report, extended comment is reserved.

LeMatin, generally understood to be close to Poincare, considers that the German chancellor has taken a step forward, without, however, succeeding in ridding himself of the false ideas that an application of his sentence to mortgages on private property would be sufficient to justify evacuation of the Ruhr.

The French government, it adds, stands by its position, which is unassailable. France may, of course, LeMatin concludes modify her regime in the Ruhr if Germany sets about paying but she will not evacuate the territory except in proportion as payments are made.

ASSEMBLYMAN FROM GREEN BAY IS DEAD

James T. Oliver, 74, Dies Suddenly At Home Of His Son

By Associated Press

Green Bay—James T. Oliver, 74, assemblyman from the first district, died here Wednesday night at the home of his son, Dr. T. J. Oliver, after an illness of a few hours. Death was due to angina pectoris, a heart attack while seated before the fire and his son, a doctor, gave him medical aid, which revived him for several minutes.

The late assemblyman was born in Yorkshire, England, Aug. 18, 1849, and came to America in 1865. Although taking an interest in political affairs, he held no office of any kind until elected to the assembly in 1920. He was reelected in 1922.

Conscience Of Burglar Leads To Confession

By Associated Press

Grand Island, Neb.—"You want to catch a burglar?" George Gardner, 19, early Wednesday morning walked into the police station here and addressed this question to the desk sergeant. "That's my business," the officer replied, glancing up at the youth in puzzlement.

"Well, here I am. I burglarized a store in Waterloo, Ia., a few days ago and it has bothered me ever since."

Gardner is being held awaiting investigation.

COMMANDER OF U. S. VESSEL DESCRIBES YOKOHAMA HORRORS

American Shipping Board Vessel,
President Jefferson,
Takes Off Victims

Seattle—Flames lighting up the sky for many miles as Yokohama burned, gave those on the shipping board liner President Jefferson their first intimation of the extent of the Japanese disaster as the vessel approached Tokyo bay the night of Sept. 2, according to a radio message from Captain Francis R. Nichols in command of the liner. The story as told in the message of Captain Nichols follows:

"The President Jefferson was en route to Shimizu from Kobe Sept. 1, and about 11 o'clock we received a radio from the Osaka mainland station that communication with Yokohama had been broken. They intimated that an earthquake and possibly some great disaster had overtaken that section and requested further information."

"We began calling Yokohama by radio and other stations and ships, but received no answer, although we continued this all night."

"As we were approaching Yokohama on the night of Sept. 2, we observed the sky was red extending for many miles over Yokohama and the entire peninsula and far to the south. The lights were not burning on the waterfront but we entered Tokyo bay by moonlight Yokohama was a seething mass of flames. It was then we got the first real information of the great catastrophe that has stricken that section."

"We immediately launched our life boats and began rescue of the harbor was one scene of pandemonium as the hundreds, yes, thousands of small craft carried on their work of taking these alive to the ships."

"With only 20 hours water on board, we had planned to take water at Yokohama. We returned to Kobe, carrying as many refugees as we could handle. Many needed medical attention, which was given them by our ship's surgeon."

"We received refugees from many of the ships in the harbor and the country turned to Kobe with a capacity load. Our life boats being pressed into service, and all our crew was busy for hours in the relief work."

"THOUSANDS WOUNDED"

"It was pitiable to see the thousands of injured and wounded, many being so badly burned that we could not assist them. The scene was one of indescribable horrors. Hundreds of stretchers were on board our ships—many had been separated from their loved ones whose fate was not known—and practically all homeless and penniless."

The passengers and crew furnished them with every available bit of clothing we had to spare as we were enroute to Kobe.

"Searching parties were combing the beaches for injured, and the wreckage was strewn along the shore as a result of the great tidal wave. Some few buildings were still standing but blackened ruins were practically all that was left of a once proud and prosperous city."

State Of Siege Declared In Barcelona After Troops Take Over City

NO REVOLT AGAINST KING

Santiago Alba, Minister Of Foreign Affairs, Under Arrest At San Sebastian

By Associated Press

Barcelona—The main telephone exchange here was occupied early Thursday by a band of men understood to be headed by Captain General Primo Rivera. It is believed that the movement will signalize an outbreak in other of the chief towns in Spain. Grave rumors were circulating in Madrid Wednesday night and the government held a hastily called meeting.

A state of siege was proclaimed here at 11:15 o'clock Thursday morning and the Catalan military authorities took possession of power in the city.

It is stated here that several garrisons, notably those in Madrid, Saragossa and Seville, have adhered to the military movement which now must be recognized as a regular coup d'etat. The normal life of Barcelona is proceeding.

The imminence of important events was widely rumored throughout the night.

A document addressed to all Spaniards and signed by Captain-General Rivera was published at 2 o'clock Thursday morning. It criticizes the present government and stigmatizes the professional politicians for seizing the power and annihilating the will of the king.

Owing to this situation, the document continues, the military authorities will take the direction and responsibility of the power to govern either directly or through civilians. At the moment of the declaration of siege, asserts the document, the military authority will deprive the civil officials of their powers and assume their functions. It will seize all means of communication and forbid circulation, except for business or family reasons. The state of siege has existed in reality since 3 o'clock Thursday morning and a censorship has been established under the military authorities.

PROCEED AGAINST CABINET

Documents have been made public affirming that legal proceedings have already been opened against the foreign minister and Premier Aluiseas. The authorities of the new regime, continues the proclamation, will occupy the headquarters of the cabinet, the prisons, the banks, the electric power stations and the points at which the water supply is controlled. All suspects will be arrested. It is also declared the leaders of the movement will seek to maintain the normal life of the country. The proclamation ends with the appeal to the patriotism of the population, entreating the military forces to give their lives to the country and its necessities.

After a cabinet meeting Thursday the following statement was issued: "The Captain-General of Barcelona Wednesday night proclaimed on his own responsibility a state of siege in that district, seized the communications and invited other districts to support his action."

"In order to explain this step he published a manifesto for the country declaring that the army called upon the sovereign to save Spain and asking for the dismissal of the present ministers."

"In certain districts it appears the military forces are disposed to concur in this attitude of rebellion. The cabinet is in permanent session which it will abandon only under force should the promoters of this sedition decide to

ECONOMY REASON FOR 1-MAN CARS ON KAUKAUNA SYSTEM

McDonald Conducts Hearing At Green Bay On Traction Company's Plea

Pleading need of economy in operation, the Wisconsin Public Service corporation submitted arguments Tuesday at a public hearing conducted by the railroad rate commission at Green Bay for permission to continue operation of one-man cars on the Kaukauna interurban line.

The hearing was conducted by Andrew McDonald of Kaukauna, recently appointed to the commission. Further statements are to be filed to show the difference in the cost of operation that resulted from the change and other data on accidents before the plan was put into operation and after.

C. E. Kohlepp, auditor for the company, submitted a financial statement to show that the railway department in the company in Green Bay including the city and interurban lines had incurred a deficit of $190,775 in 1922 and a deficit of $94,818 in the first seven months of 1923.

C. E. Warwick, representing the company, testified that the one-man cars with the new safety appliances were as safe as the two-man cars. J. P. Pulliam, general manager of the company, said that accidents have been materially reduced the last two years, and that step accidents to passengers have practically ceased with the operation of one-man cars. He said further that the saving resulting from the one-man cars would forestall an increase in rates and possibly reflect a decrease in rates.

While no man appeared against the company, Commissioner McDonald said that the commission does not favor one-man cars on interurban lines except where they are necessary as an economy measure.

REMODELED BIJOU OPENS SATURDAY

Ten-hour Run Is Arranged For Two Days To Take Care Of First Crowds

Appleton's remodeled Bijou theater will open for business Saturday of this week, according to announcement of its new proprietor, Frank Cook.

It is his plan to give the public ample opportunity to satisfy its curiosity as to the improvements he has been making by making a 10-hour continuous run on Saturday and Sunday. The first shows will start at 1 o'clock and will be repeated up to 11 o'clock in the evening.

The theater will show motion pictures only, under Mr. Cook's plan. His first presentation will be "Fools of Fortune," a picture starring Marquise De La Motte. He has booked one of the latest and best films obtainable with which to entertain his first patrons.

The picture starts out in a western setting and ends in a fashionable home in the east. In a spirit of fun a cowboy leaves his ranch on a journey east which he thinks will enable him to pass himself off as the long lost heir to the De Puyster millions who ran away as a boy. Three cowboy friends are taken along to add proof—and complications—to Chuck's claims. They are indeed "Fools of Fortune" for, after many comic mishaps and wild adventures, they find themselves in the presence of the De Puysters and hear old man De Puyster deny that he ever had a son. How the ingenious Chuck eventually worms himself out of the ticklish situation and, more over, contrives to be taken into the family as an honored relation, is as much a surprise to him as it will be to the audience.

County's Response To Japanese Aid Appeal Is Too Slow To Reach Quota

Fund Now Has Reached Only $637.50—City Of Appleton Should Give $1,000 And Remainder Of County At Least $1,500

Giving to the Japanese Relief fund has slowed down to the point where Outagamie county will fall short of its quota unless more people heed the cry of the distressed. Only $53 was added to the fund up to noon today, making the total gifts $637.50.

It is believed the city of Appleton alone ought to give $1,000 and the remainder of the county $1,500 to make up the quota of $2,500 set by the American Red Cross.

Make your donations to the chamber of commerce or the Post-Crescent and they will be transmitted to the Red Cross headquarters.

CAMPAIGN PLAN UP FOR O. K. MONDAY

Y. M. C. A. Board Postpones Meeting Because Of Grant Phillips's Funeral

The board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. will meet at 1:30 Monday afternoon instead of Thursday afternoon as announced. The postponement was necessary because a number of the members attended the funeral services of the late Grant Phillips on Thursday afternoon.

Completed plans for the membership drive which is to start on Monday, Sept. 24, will be presented to the board at that time for its approval. Details of the campaign management are being worked out at the present time in all the Y. M. C. A. departments. Lists of prospective members are being compiled and will be ready for the workers. The personnel of the campaign teams is not yet completed, but all teams will be chosen and ready for work by the opening date of the campaign.

Harold Littmore, the new office secretary of the Y. M. C. A., will begin his work on Monday. Mr. Littmore comes to Appleton from the Milwaukee office where he has been assistant office secretary for several years.

ONE IN WAY OF NEW ENTRANCE TO PARK

Land Owners Ready To Donate
Property For Street To Alicia Park

A movement to open a new street from Pine-st to Cedar-st so as to provide a new entrance to Alicia park is meeting with considerable success, but has been temporarily blocked by the unwillingness of one property owner to grant land for the thoroughfare F. F. Wettengel has been active in securing the cooperation.

All other property owners have consented with conditions to grant quit claim deeds or easements for the opening of the street. Inasmuch as a division of land of the property owner who is holding out would considerably reduce the value of his lot, it is probable that this property will have to be purchased in order to project the street.

The new street would be nearly midway between Outagamie and Mason-sts and would extend from Pine-st to Cedar-st, the street which forms the north boundary line of Alicia park. The new street would be about 1,500 feet long.

BUILDING OFFICER
HAS STATE HOURS

An announcement by G. T. Peotter deputy building inspector, of a change in his office hours has led some builders to believe that the office hours have been lengthened, and consequently have visited the city hall at many inopportune times. City hall offices are not open on Saturday afternoons. But the building inspector's office is open on Saturday afternoons, as well as from 8:30 to 2:30 in the morning and 1:15 to 5 in the afternoon on other weekdays. The rest of the working hours are spent in field work. By observing these hours, prospective builders can save themselves many an extra trip to the city hall, Mr. Peotter says.

Mr. Peotter also announced that it is necessary for all builders to bring a sketch of the layout of the lot and proposed structure. They must show the dimensions of the lot and the building as well as distance of the building and all lot lines, and from the neighboring house. Complete data as to the approximate cost of the building, the height and material of the buildings, the names of the contractor, carpenter, mason, plumber, sewer digger and electrical contractor also are necessary.

POLITICAL POT AT
'Y' IS SIZZLING

"Who will be mayor of the department?" is the question which members of the boys department of the Y. M. C. A. are asking themselves and each other these days. No candidates for Mayor Harold Fisher's position have been announced by any of the three parties nor has the mayor himself announced that he will run for a second term.

Those who succeeded in winning the present mayor his position last year think his popularity would insure his reelection, but they are watching for a "dark horse" candidate. Even the political leaders of the department seem much at a loss to know just how the campaign will turn out.

Announcements of the candidates will be made at the annual open house of the department which is scheduled for Oct. 5. The election will take place on Oct. 12, giving the candidates only one week in which to convince the members of their department of their fitness for the position.

Since no one seems to know the "dope", the question "Who will be the next mayor of the department?" continues to plague the curiosity of the boys.

MISREPRESENTS IN SALE OF BEDSPRINGS IN STATE

A former Appleton man who sells bed springs which are supposed to be manufactured in Appleton, has recently been operating in Watertown, according to information received by Appleton Chamber of Commerce. Reports and inquiries concerning the man's connection with an Appleton firm which he states makes the bed springs which he sells have come to the chamber of commerce from Racine, Sheboygan and other Wisconsin cities and also Indiana cities. In each case the chamber has informed the inquirers that his connection with any Appleton firm has been severed and that the concern whose name he uses does not manufacture bed springs.

One of the means by which the man is said to get money is by selling to doctors. He gives them a very special cash discount because of their profession and then the doctors have written here concerning him when the springs did not arrive.

Appleton One Of Three Cities Outside Chicago
To Hear Big Orchestra

Among the numbers which will make up the Community Artist series this year appears the Chicago Symphony orchestra, a musical organization which is unsurpassed among others of its type.

Appleton is especially fortunate in being able to secure this orchestra which is composed of 90 players and directed by Frederick Stock. It is considered the finest number brought to the city in a number of years and the price of admission for the entire course of four numbers would be cheap for this single performance which will be given Tuesday evening, Dec. 11, it is said.

The only concert the Chicago Symphony orchestra will give this winter beside the one in Appleton will be ten performances in Milwaukee and four in Aurora, Ill. Otherwise its time will be spent in Chicago.

The first program on the series will be given Friday evening, Nov. 9 when Louis Gravenius will appear in Appleton for the second time. His concert last winter was so well received that he accepted the invitation to make his second appearance in the city.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra which will be the second number of the series will be followed by Maier and Patterson, pianists. These artists who rank among the outstanding of the country will be in Appleton Tuesday evening, Jan. 29. It is their first appearance here.

Miss Florence Easton of the Metropolitan Opera Co. who will close the series Feb. 12 is a dramatic soprano of unusual ability. Miss Easton will appear in Appleton for the first time and music lovers are looking forward to her concert with much enthusiasm.

Man 74 Years Old Is "Rejuvenated"
In 3 Weeks Without Gland Operation

Kansas Contractor Tells of Wonderful Results Obtained in Test of New Scientific Discovery.

Thomas J. Glascock, 74, well-known Kansas contractor, declares he has virtually been made young again by the recently discovered korex compound, which is pronounced superior to "gland treatments" as an invigorator and revitalizer.

"I feel like I did at 35," says Mr. Glascock, "and seem to be getting stronger every day. During my three weeks' use of the new discovery, pains and weaknesses of many years' standing disappeared almost magically. Today I am as vigorous and supple as I was in the prime of life. Furthermore, when I began using the compound, my memory was virtually gone and I was almost blind. Now my mind is clear and active and I can read the finest print without difficulty."

In order to find out whether the results were lasting, Mr. Glascock waited six months before reporting on his test of the discovery. On this point he says:

"Every passing day strengthens my conviction that my restoration is not only complete but permanent. I can't express the happiness this great discovery has brought to me. It has made me 'young' again."

Similar reports are being made almost daily. For instance, D. W. Wood of New Orleans, past 50 years of age, says: "The compound has brought me back to as good, healthy physical condition as I enjoyed at 35. I am apparently as supple as at 25 and my eyesight is better than for years. I would not take $5,000 for what the discovery has done for me."

The compound is a simple home treatment in tablet form, absolutely harmless, yet rated as the quickest and most powerful invigorator known. Acting directly on lower spinal nerve centers and certain glands and blood vessels, it often brings amazing benefits in 24 to 36 hours, according to thousands who have tested it.

"It is wonderful," writes a resident of Hollister, Cal. "In less than 24 hours you can feel it does the work. It makes one feel young as a young man. I am more than happy and glad I tried it." Another Californian says: "The compound is a world's wonder. I feel like I was about 25 and here I am nearly fifty."

The compound has been tested in all parts of the country and has won the praises of thousands who suffered from nerve weakness, lost or depleted vigor, neurasthenia, premature age, impaired glandular activity and lack of animation and vital force. Its effects seem to be virtually the same on both young and old. Physicians say the principal active ingredient of the compound gives speedy satisfaction in obstinate cases that defy all other treatments. Elderly people pronounce the discovery a real "fountain of youth."

Realizing that thousands of enfeebled, half-alive folk may consider such news "too good to be true," the American distributors have agreed to supply a double strength treatment of the discovery on a guaranteed trial basis to everyone in need of such a preparation. If you wish to test the compound under a money-back guarantee, write in strict confidence to the Melton Laboratories, 3083 Melton Building, Kansas City, Mo., for a two-dollar treatment of korex compound, mailed in a plain, sealed wrapper. You may enclose two dollars, or simply send your name, without money, and pay two dollars and postage on delivery, as you prefer. In either case, however, if you report within ten days that you are not satisfied, the laboratories will refund the purchase price upon request. These laboratories are nationally known and thoroughly reliable, so nobody need hesitate about accepting their guaranteed offer.

MR. BACHMAN

Governor Blaine's appointment of city treasurer Fred Bachman to a place on the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, as a representative of labor, is commendable. His acceptance of the position is looked for, although no definite statement has come from him as yet.

While the Severson Act passed by the recent legislature has, in our judgment, its inconsistencies in that it provides for representation on the board of regents of certain classes and occupations and fails to provide representation for other groups, yet inasmuch as it calls for a representative of labor we know of no man better equipped for such position than Mr. Bachman. He stands high in labor circles. He is president of the Appleton Trades & Labor Council and is prominent in state labor affairs. He is also popular with employers. He has been actively identified with many civic movements and is generally popular and well liked as has been evidenced by his election to the office of city treasurer for the past two terms without opposition. He should prove a satisfactory appointment to all factions. He is conservative and fair in his views on labor problems. He will give the affairs of the University close and careful study. We do not think that he will permit the University to become a political football, so many were afraid it might be at the time of the passage of the Severson act. We believe he will serve the interests of the University as faithfully as he has served the city of Appleton for the past five years in the capacity of treasurer.

HAVE NOT LEARNED MUCH

Now that the Greco-Italian affair, which passed with kaleidoscopic rapidity before an astonished world, has been "settled," the people of the United States, whose interest in the outcome was exceedingly keen because of the possible consequences to both the peace of Europe and the League of Nations, may appraise the incident at its true significance. If ever there was a political and international force of such magnitude pulled off at the expense of enlightened progress history affords no recent parallel. It is not so much that Greece, helpless as well as free of official complicity in the Janina murders, was savagely attacked and bullied into acceptance of humiliating punishment, but that the politicians of Europe permitted this outrage with unblinking suavity and refused, with the exception of Great Britain, to raise a hand in behalf of that agency of impartial justice, the League. Reference of the Greek protest to the council of ambassadors was a poorly concealed makeshift. It is true that it can be construed as an indirect admission of League jurisdiction, but the fact remains that the League was flouted and that it replied with about as much vigor and animation as an Egyptian mummy.

The reason the Italian threat got the best of the League and forced it into a stultifying evasion of its responsibilities from hour to hour and day to day, while distracted diplomats were running madly about to find some other solution of the crisis, was because the statesmen of Europe desired it to be so. In placing an estimate upon the events of the last ten days, we must go back to the Paris peace conference. The creation of an association of nations to enforce peace was not popular at that gathering. So far as continental Europe was concerned it fought it bitterly, while England was won over only with her fingers crossed. Europe proper was forced into the League by the strategy of Mr. Wilson. The forces that were arrayed against the League then are still in power. They are manipulating the destinies of Europe with the same chesslike precision as the secret diplomatists of old. They have gone straight back to the game as it was played before the world war. They wanted to go backward at Paris and they have succeeded.

The peace between Italy and Greece is the work of sinister and malevolent forces. The council of ambassadors that settled the case is made up of politicians inextricably entangled in those forces. There is no more similarity between that council and the council of the League than there is between a rag doll and a healthy infant. Here is what these mighty men of peace swallowed when they let Italy openly defy the League: Italy was bound under her covenant to submit to its jurisdiction. She refused. She was bound by her oath to terminate her membership in the League by specified time notice and she could only withdraw then when in good standing and after having fully discharged any existing obligation under her covenant, yet she threatened to summarily resign. In other words, Italy's course unrestricted tore down the very foundations of the League. Not only the politicians who took the case in hand but the council of the League itself, by its inaction in the face of challenge, connived in Italy's intransigence. This is not the road to the peaceful adjudication of international differences. It would have availed nothing in composing the issue between Austria and Serbia following Sarajevo.

Although moved by different considerations, the effects of those in the United States who are cooperation by this nation with the other nations of the world for the genuine enforcement of peace and the prevention of war, are the same. The hopes and wishes of civilized peoples everywhere, including the people of this country, are for law and order as opposed to force. Civilized people want peace, not war. It is their political leaders and their rulers who, by agitation, ambition for power and crooked diplomacy, are seeking to thwart the aims of those who would substitute rational methods of justice for the irrational means of war and lead them away from the agencies of stable and enduring peace. These politicians and these false leaders have not profited by the world war. They have not learned much, whether they are in American or Europe, of its lessons. The day will come when they will have to take heed or be swept aside by the irresistible demand of the people to put an end to useless conflicts and wars.

From the moment Mr. Harding became president he gravitated in the opposite direction from his political association and in fact from his party. He became speedily an adherent to the cause of international cooperation. He gave expression to it by at least three momentous acts and policies. Mr. Coolidge will follow in his footsteps because he is a man who believes in law and order among nations and in peace as against war. He will while he is president lead this nation steadily toward international cooperation. If the politicians thwart him, so much the worse for the politicians, just as it will be in time worse for the false statesmen of Europe who by their course in the Janina incident were willing to wreck the League of Nations, the one competent instrumentality of peace, in furtherance of their ulterior purposes.

DON'T TAKE TRUTH SERUM TOO SERIOUSLY

The favorite popular conceit at present is calling everything in the way of medicine or treatment that doesn't come in pill form a "serum." The narcotic drug scopolamin (the same drug that made the headlines in "twilight sleep" a few years ago) has the effect of producing loss of memory, rather a lapse or loss of alertness, a state of indifference or unconcern; so it has been administered to persons under suspicion to see whether they would so far forget themselves and their assumed roles or stories as to betray their guilt. To call the drug "truth serum" is an inexcusable indulgence of the desire for sensationalism.

Serum is the liquid of blood minus the corpuscles or cells. Serum from the horse immunized against the poison of diphtheria is antitoxin serum or "antitoxin." Bacterins or "bacterial vaccines" are not serums, however. So when we read about a new serum there is no telling what the new remedy may be, since so many are content to call everything but pills "serums."

Scopolamin is combined with morphine and administered by hypodermic injection to numb consciousness in the method which has been so widely advertised as "twilight sleep," a method, by the way, which we were using in suitable cases in this country at least 10 years before the idea was reimported from Germany for exploitation here. An individual fully under the influence of these drugs is drowsy, dull and slow to respond but not unconscious. He can remember only a brief part of what is likely to forget what he starts out to say, even in replies of two or three words. With his memory thus inhibited or in abeyance he may, if piled with leading questions let slip something he means to keep secret; in most instances the drug so numbs consciousness that the subject's replies are mumbled and meaningless.

The action of scopolamin is similar to that of atropin (the active principle of belladonna); the drug has been much used by occultists for dilating the pupil and placing the accommodation at rest for examination and in the treatment of iritis. Administered internally or hypodermically scopolamin more closely resembles another drug called hyoscine (obtained from henbane) in its action on the brain.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Lemons In Their Romantic Role

Do lemons help reduce, or are they injurious to the body?—Frances.

Answer—No; lemons never reduce and as a rule they are wholesome and beneficial to health.

The Cat and The Lawyer

Some lawyers have their credulous side, too. Here's an instance: I always read your columns and enjoy them, but I see you refer to the idea that cats "suck a baby's breath" as a myth. I believe you should know of an experience of mine. When a boy of about 11 years I was convalescing from some illness and lay in bed with a pet cat napping on the foot of the bed. He was a big fellow, weighing 10 pounds or more. I called to him and he walked up to me and looked down into my face. I talked to him and quicker than thought he thrust his head into my mouth. I got my arms out from under the bedclothes as quickly as I could and grabbed that cat and he hit the wall over the foot of the bed with a dull sickening thud. Had I been a baby, he might have suffocated me. Undoubtedly the cat thought he saw a mouse, doubt that hole in my face and he was going after it. I do not think the idea is a myth. I think it is a real danger.—S. A. A.

Answer—There is no accounting for some imaginations.

LOOKING BACKWARD

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, September 15, 1898

Lieutenant Governor Emil Bensch of Manitowoc called on Appleton friends.

John Hicks, Jr., of Oshkosh, later city editor of Appleton Crescent, was among the new students who registered at Lawrence university.

A "walk around" was given at Ryan high school building the previous evening for the benefit of new students.

Edward Sherman fractured his leg while playing football.

Mr. Matt Schmidt's show window was a collection of relics from Porto Rico owned by Richard Jessmer.

Bauer & Stewart's band and the Cornet band of Little Chute volunteered their services to the committee in charge of the "welcome" that was to be given to Company G on its return home from Porto Rico.

In digging the new sewer on College-ave workmen came upon the foundation of an old pair of scales in front of the Commercial bank building. The scales rested on white oak logs matted at the ends which were as sound as the day they were put in. From George Kreiss it was learned the scales were put in 43 years previous by Goff & Conkey, who at that time ran a store where the bank building stands.

The most interesting relic of the recent war exhibit in Appleton was a piece of the cable cut at Cienfuegos by the crew of the Wilmington at the time that Ensign Bagley and several others met their death. The heroes worked in a perfect hailstorm of lead from the Spanish guns.

TEN YEARS AGO

Thursday, September 11, 1913

Gustave Keller's nomination for postmaster was confirmed by the United States senate.

Wilder Whipple, formerly of Appleton, was a member of a party of five that climbed to the top of Mt. Rainier, the highest point in the United States.

Thomas B. Flanagan, assessor of incomes, announced that the county income tax for the year was $21,585.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dean returned from Milwaukee where they attended the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. O'Brien of Kaukauna were among the outsiders who attended the performance of "Madam X" at Appleton theater the previous evening.

Miss Lydia Cook and Florio Clemens, both of Medina, were married the day previous by Dr. John Faville.

Mrs. Fredericks Reinke, 76, died at her home at Apple Creek the day previous after a prolonged illness.

Application for a marriage license was made to the county clerk by Carleton A. Smith and Miss Jeanette Haefner, both of Appleton.

Joseph Haefner, who suffered painful injuries while at work at the plant of the Appleton Chair company, was removed from St. Elizabeth hospital to his home on Lake-st.

The County training school at Kaukauna opened a few days previous with an attendance of 35 students.

Fire the previous afternoon destroyed the home, saloon, dance hall and small nearby buildings on the east Nicholas Steffen farm on the Cooper two miles east of Alex. Child's corner.

For a moment bliss was his.

"Oh," he said; "I thought it was my sister."

Leaving Out The Bride

(Mobile, Ala., Presbyterian News.)

Rev. James W. Marshall was married to Mrs. Marion L. Stallworth in Tinela. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George F. Johnson, Dr. Dunbar H. Ogden serving as best man. It was the first time Mr. Johnson performed a ceremony; it was the first time Dr. Ogden was best man.

Love Dies For Lack Of Praise,
Avers Writer

(Elizabeth More, in The London Mail, Continental Edition.)

Love dies more often for lack of praise than from want of fidelity. Praise and encouragement to love are the sun and dew of a sensitive delicate plant.

Love suffers long. It endures cruelty but it cannot survive neglect. Love—real love—has no faith in itself. It is infinitely humble. It is ever ready to believe that the praise of the early days of marriage was love's illusion.

Hence happiness is wrecked, not because people have ceased to love but because they take everything for granted.

The man still thinks his wife the best-dressed woman he knows. He still adores her beauty and delights in her capricious little ways. But he forgets to tell her so.

"It is not necessary," he argues. "I have told her so often."

But his wife has long ago discounted the praise of early love. For love is so blind when he is young.

And the woman still thinks that her husband is the most wonderful man in the world. She tells her woman friends so.

"Why," she exclaims, "in five years John has pulled the business out of the fire! If it had not been for John—"

But so secure is her pride in John that she neglects to mention it to John himself. He must know all about it surely!

Yet human nature is as vain as love is humble. Neither men nor women ever weary of praise and both work hard to deserve it.

The woman preserves her beauty at "infinite cost and labor—to please John."

And John works like 10 men to secure not only his wife's comfort but also her admiration.

And yet love, greatly loving, assumes praise to be unnecessary. And there is the pity of it. For love interprets silence as indifference.

Every employer of labor knows the value of praise. He appreciates good work before he points out the bad. For encouragement achieves better results than fault-finding. Yet there is no more anxious servant than love.

Q. Has the Star Spangled Banner ever received any official recognition?

J. W. C.

A. Congress, as late as 1914 refused to declare it the national anthem. Its only official recognition occurred nearly one hundred years after it was written, when it was formally ordered to be played in the Army and Navy on occasions of ceremony. Its standing has never been disputed in other lands, and wherever America is honored in music, this familiar air is played.

Q. Is the distance from city to city measured in a straight line, or along a road? W. C. H.

A. The Geological Survey says that the distance between two cities is generally measured along a public road or railroad from the center of one city to the center of the other unless actually specified from outside boundaries.

Q. How many pounds of white bread can be made from 100 pounds of wheat? J. R. M.

A. By the usual bolting method, 100 pounds of wheat will yield about 70 pounds of flour, from which 94 pounds of bread may be produced.

Q. I have less than one-half of a ten dollar bill that has been burned. Can it be redeemed? A. L. R.

PANTHER'S CLAW CHANGES MAP

New York — A Panther's claw has just changed the map of Florida.

When, several years ago, a friend of Barron Collier, New York millionaire and special deputy police commissioner, showed him the claw of a panther, killed in Florida and mounted as a watch charm, Collier became interested.

Subsequently, led on by the claw, Collier went to Lee county, Florida, in which the panther had been killed, and he liked the country so well that he first bought an island and then more than 1,000 acres of land.

Much of the land was wild country in which the panther had roamed before its claw became just a watch charm.

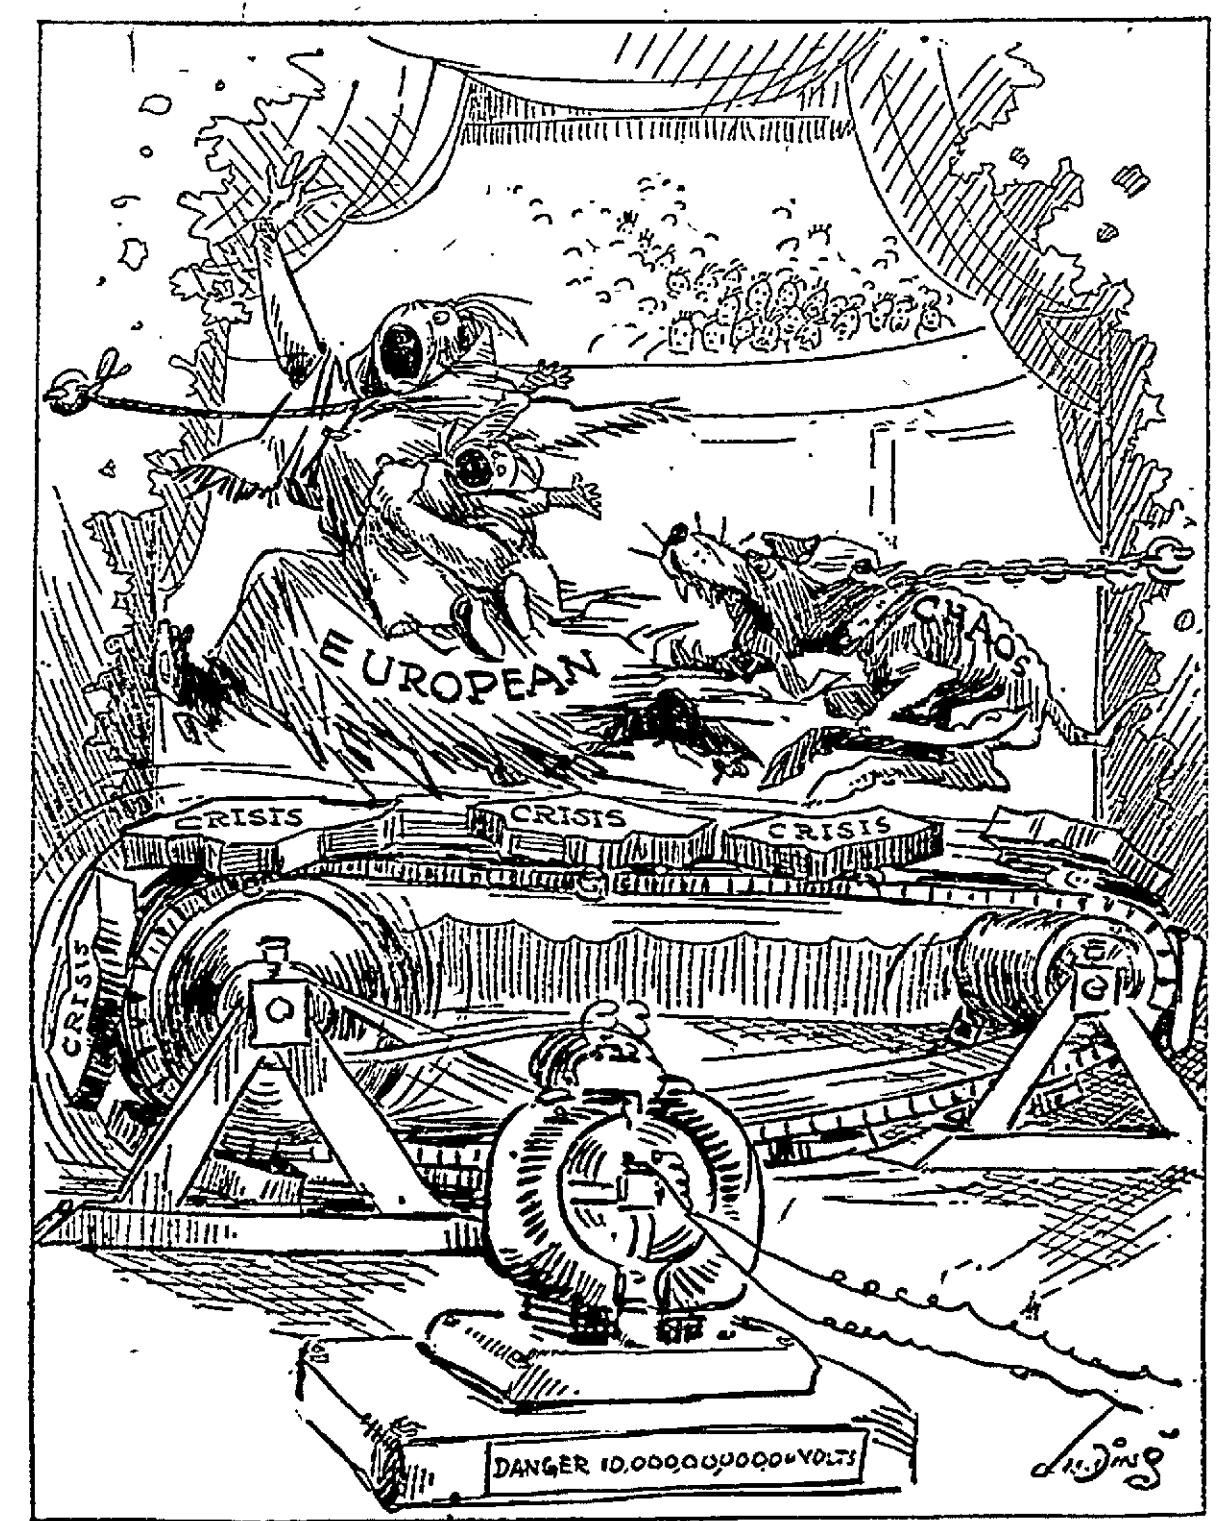

So he began to build roads, railroads, deepen waterways and started a boat line which would let the people of the undeveloped country into the outside world. He spent several million dollars.

Just a few days ago the Florida state legislature divided Lee county in two parts and created the county of Collier. Now all of the state maps must be changed.

Collier is one of New York's little-known millionaires. He is a close friend of the Rockefellers, living across the road from them near Tarrytown. His hobby is safety, and his duties, as special deputy commissioner of police are to keep the streets of the metropolis safe.

"Uke" Club Is Open To All Girls

Musical Features Of Womans
Club Are Worth Membership To Many

How many girls wish after they have grown up that their mothers had forced them to keep on practicing piano or some other instrument when they were young, nobody knows, but there are hundreds right here in Appleton. The musical organizations of Appleton Womans club offer a splendid opportunity to the club's members to develop their musical ability and to fill that place which their lack of youthful application has left vacant. The two musical clubs which are open to the girls who register for membership before Sept. 24 are the newly organized ukelele club which has had such a phenomenal growth and the glee club which has put on several programs in the city. Miss Marie Helmsman, the new recreation department assistant, organized the "uke" club during the hot months of the summer, and so many girls wanted to strum an instrument that she had to form two sections. Even while Miss Helmsman was at Camp Onaway, the club grew and learned some new songs. It has been thriving no matter what the weather nor the place of meeting.

This club will meet on Monday evening during the winter months so that it may practice with the glee club and with the aesthetic dancing club. Joint programs with these organizations are being planned. During the two weeks of campaign for recreation department memberships, the ukelele club has had a full program, playing Tuesday night at the Tuttle Press, Wednesday at the Zwickler knitting mill, Thursday at the Appleton Superior knitting mill and Friday at the Appleton Business college. Any girl who has or may borrow a ukelele may become a member and begin at once to learn the popular and old favorite songs.

Under the direction of Mrs. Marie Helmsman, the glee club presented last year the cantata "In a Flower Garden." This year special programs for Thanksgiving and Christmas are being planned, while an Easter cantata will be the big event. To those girls who like to sing with others, this club offers a big opportunity. The membership of this club is not limited to those who have always been featured as "good singers" but welcomes any girl who would like to sing with others.

Work on the membership drive of the department was begun on Monday and will continue until Sept. 24 when the clubs and classes begin their work. Any girl who does not happen to be in a place which the membership teams reach who would like to take up any work which the club offers is urged to stop at the office at the corner of Harris and Oneda-sts and register at once.

CLUB MEETINGS

Miss Ida Hopkins was hostess Wednesday afternoon at the home, 488 North-st, to the Tuesday club. Miss Ada Kethroe and Miss Florence Kethroe had charge of the program. The club voted to give a sum of money to the Japanese relief fund.

The H-Y club held its first fall meeting Wednesday evening at the T. M. C. A. The greater part of the evening was taken up with a discussion of the program for the coming year. Meetings will be held by the club each Wednesday evening.

PARTIES

Mrs. William H. Storm and Mrs. Nie Storm entertained at a miscellaneous shinner at the latter's home on Lawrence-st. Wednesday evening in honor of Miss Leone Storm whose marriage to C. Manley Thompson will take place in the near future. About 35 guests were present and cards and dice were played. The prize winners were: Schafkopf, Mrs. Frank Treibner, Mrs. Matt Schmidt, Mrs. George Ripple, plumpack, Mrs. Josef Kuehn, and Mrs. Michael Farrell; dice, Mrs. Martin Van Ryzin, Mrs. John McCarter and Mrs. John Asbman.

Public Schools Have 99 More Pupils Than Year Ago, Says Report

The school enrollment as of Sept. 10 this year lacked one pupil of contributing a gain of 100 pupils over the enrollment of the second Monday in September of the year 1922, according to statistics just compiled by Miss Carrie E. Morgan, city superintendent of schools. A net gain of 99 in the free high school district and the common districts and a net gain of 8 in the vocational school are reported.

There are only 15 more girls than boys enrolled in the schools of the districts, and 24 more girls than boys in the vocational school. Girls in the high school outnumber the boys by 51. The high school gained 25 pupils over the enrollment of a year ago. The largest gain in the elementary school districts was in the Fourth ward with 44 new faces, while the Third district schools were a close second with a gain of 40, the First district gaining 4 and the Second district losing 7. No gain is reported for the ungraded school and a loss of seven is evident in the deaf school. The reason for that loss was that children with defective speech are no longer enrolled in the school.

The total enrollment of all public schools except the vocational school was 1,697 boys and 1,712 girls, or 3,409 pupils, as compared with 3,286 pupils last year. Deducting a loss of 14 from the gain of 113 gives a net gain of 99. Following is the enrollment by districts:

	Boys	Girls	Total	Gain	Loss
High School	478	559	1,037	25
First District	253	284	537	4
Second District	355	343	698	7

DOCTORS WANTED TO OPERATE

Mrs. Quillon Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her from an Operation

Muskegon, Michigan.—"After doctoring for eight or nine years with different physicians without any relief at all, they said at last that medicine would not reach my case and I should have an operation. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers where some women had suffered just as I did and got well and strong again by taking the Vegetable Compound. I decided to see what it would do for me, and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was much better, the weakness stopped and the severe pains in my sides left me. I am now much stronger and do my own work and work in the factory besides. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and give it all the praise."—Mrs. VERA QUILLON, 17 Morris St., Muskegon, Mich.

Women should heed such warning symptoms as bearing-down pains and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will seldom fail to help.

CATALAN ARMY TAKES CONTROL OF GOVERNMENT

Revolt Directed At Ministry,
Not At King, In Pro-

Rivera took over the government of the province of Barcelona, dismissing the former governor.

In the other Catalan provinces, the military authorities have taken possession of the government.

The movement does not seem to have met with difficulties in the Catalan region.

The police, the civil guard and the other public forces seem to have accepted the new order of things.

KING ALFONZO IN MADRID

Madrid—King Alfonso returned to Madrid Thursday. The station was surrounded by troops and every precaution was taken to keep unauthorized persons away. Conditions in Madrid present a normal aspect.

The army as a whole it is declared, remains loyal to the government. The cabinet is remaining in session and the government expresses confidence in its ability to stamp out the revolt movement.

ALFONSO PREPARED

London—Grave statements made privately here recently by competent foreign observers who had arrived from Madrid, regarding the internal situation in Spain acquire unusual interest in view of the revolt.

It has been stated that there was a strong revolution party in Spain, which was plotting to overthrow the government and months ago their plans was said to have progressed far.

It was also stated by one in a position to know that King Alfonso was fully cognizant of the situation and had no doubt that sooner or later he would be forced to face a revolt.

The revolt in Spain centers in that hebed of Spanish agitation, the district of Catalonia with its populous capital of Barcelona. This has long been the scene of Carlist conspiracy and revolt seeking to restore the Carlist dynasty. It is also the center of the Separatist movement, which seeks to make the great commercial area around Barcelona a separate state of southern Spain, detached from Madrid as the center of northern Spain.

Catalonia also has been the main rendezvous for the extreme agitationist elements, including Spanish anarchists and so-called modernists. It is notable from the despatches that the present movement is not Dynastic, as the manifesto issued by Captain General Rivera is directed against "Professional politicians for seizing the power and annihilating of the will of the king." The military element has also taken a markedly sympathetic attitude toward the present royal family and is looked upon as one of its chief proponents as against the disorders of political elements and the agitation of extremists.

The recent Spanish reverses in Morocco have added a new element of discontent and political rivalry.

SINDAHL CONCERT CHARMED AUDIENCE

Young Soprano Soloist Presents Program At Methodist Church

Kaukauna—Brokaw Methodist church was filled to capacity Wednesday evening with music lovers who attended the recital of Miss Lillian Sindhahl, the Norwegian nightingale, formerly of Neenah. The young lady who is at present from the Conservatory of Music, gave a pleasing program, made more successful by her personality.

Miss Sindhahl was assisted at the piano by Mrs. Annetta Sindhahl, her sister, and by Mrs. Ellabeth Rockwood Engle, reader of Appleton, whose numbers also were received with vociferous applause.

Miss Sindhahl opened the program with a song entitled "Spanish Waltz" which was followed by "Hindu River Chants" and "Montana."

Two readings, "Humoresque" and "The Middle Child" by Mrs. Engle were given next and were followed by another group of songs, "The Cradle Song" was added to Miss Sindhahl's program. "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" was given as a piano solo by Mrs. Matheson.

Miss Sindhahl's next group of songs, given in costume, was most heartily received. The songs were "My Lullaby," "The Lass With a Delicate Air" and "When I Was Seventeen," a Scandinavian folk song.

Mrs. Engle's second story, "A Quiet Afternoon" taken from "South Tarlington's" story, was a real treat and was followed by two other readings, "The Reformation of a Pennsylvania Dutch Bridegroom" and "The Patchwork Quilt."

Mrs. Engle's third story, "A Quiet Afternoon" taken from "South Tarlington's" story, was a real treat and was followed by two other readings, "The Reformation of a Pennsylvania Dutch Bridegroom" and "The Patchwork Quilt."

YOUTH OF 28 WILL LEARN SPENDING OF WILLED MILLIONS

Community Trust Aims To Prevent Waste Of Country's Philanthropy

New York—A young man 28 years old is learning how to spend a hundred million dollars.

That's Ralph Hayes' job. As director of the New York Community Trust he expects to devote a lifetime to learning how future generations can best spend the nation's wasted wealth.

Who will spend the hundred million—or perhaps a half billion or so—100 years from now? And how?

"Nobody today can answer these questions," says Hayes. "Nobody even knows how much money will be available in 50 or 100 years."

A group of banks have joined in perpetuating the idea conceived in 1914 by the late Frederick Goff of Cleveland to establish a people's foundation—comparable to the great Rockefeller, Carnegie and Russell Sage Foundations—for the economic and beneficial distribution of private fortunes intended for "civil and philanthropic purposes."

"We want to make philanthropy fool-proof," says Hayes. "Vast sums of money are wasted because people do not know how to make wills, because they make foolish bequests, tying up millions in ill-advised plans that go wrong in after years because times and customs change."

Hayes, who has just announced the detailed plans of the Community Trust, points to thousands of wills here and abroad that waste untold wealth and in which time has frustrated the desires of donors.

"They tell the tragic comedy," he said, "of the Dead Hand whose withering touch blights living hopes. Here's just one sample: The will of a Pennsylvania woman left a trust fund to help not more than 12 clergymen decayed by age or infirmity who were not addicted to tobacco in any form."

Upon Hayes has fallen the mantle of the late Judge Goff, who selected him to help establish the Cleveland Foundation and then, on his deathbed, urged the trustees of the newly founded New York Community Trust to assign his youthful associate the task of setting in motion the machinery that is expected in some future generation to build up a people's foundation that will assure the use of enormous sums of money for real public benefit.

"This was Judge Goff's dream," said Hayes. "He believed that too much emphasis is placed on stone and mortar—on monumental buildings and cities beautiful, that are fine things but too limited—and not enough on human needs. He wanted perpetual machinery to weld together the thousands of small fortunes so that the aggregate income—eventually overshadowing the millions in private foundations—might be devoted to humanity."

Forty such community trusts have been established throughout the country. The Cleveland Foundation only nine years old, has pledges of resources estimated at $100,000,000—to be received in future years—and a present income of half a million; and it has already functioned in surveys and investigations, including schools, recreation and crime and justice. In Boston a similar sum is available.

HATCHES MOVIE PLOTS IN KITCHEN

Wichita Falls, Tex. — Bus boy by day—scenario writer by night! That's "Cal", Conant, general factotum in the Y. M. C. A. cafeteria here.

From dishes, pots and pans to intricate movie plots certainly is a far cry, you will admit. But "Cal" happens to be one "struggling author" who's not going to run the risk of starving while he's waiting for the royalties to roll 'round.

In the restaurant, where he's worked for four years now—ever since he was 15—he's sure of his three squares every day. And then he has $10 or $12 a week coming in besides. This tides him along while he's burning the midnight oil over his little pad of yellow paper.

When "Nobody's Money," starring Jack Holt, showed here recently, nobody—save a lanky youngster in the gallery and maybe a companion or two—paid any heed to the author's line under the title.

Fact is, none around the cafeteria, except the bookkeeper, remembered having heard "Cal's" full name—Callie D. Conant.

But down in "Cal's" savings account was a check for $500 for the scenario. And up in his room was a letter from his agency announcing it had been offered $1200 for one of his plots, but was holding it for $1500.

"You say you want my picture?" asked "Cal" as he set a lead of dishes on the "bus." Well, will these clothes do? And "Cal," the scenario writer, posed for the photographer right there in the cafeteria in his bus boy's uniform.

We wouldn't advise any burglar to rob the Norman family house. Sergeant Frank H. Norman (left), head of the house, has been in the police department 31 years. His son, Fred H., also is a sergeant, and has 15 years to his credit. Dad is for the old-style policy of crime detection, while son believes in tear bombs, finger prints. They're San Francisco cops.

TON LITTER RACE ENDS IN OCTOBER

Prize Groups Of Hogs Will Be Shown At Junior Livestock Exposition

By Associated Press
Madison — With the approach of fall Wisconsin's ton litter contest has turned into the home stretch.

The junior livestock exposition, held yearly in October at the Wisconsin college of agriculture, marks the finish line when the winners in the state ton litter contest will be declared. Pork producers throughout the state are grooming their fattened hogs for the supreme test in the show ring, when the champion litter of the state will be chosen.

With 12 litters at the present time Buffalo-co leads the field in the number of original entries. Four entries from Washington-co are still in the running. A litter of ten Durocs owned by Edgar Schroeder won the county contest in Sheboygan-co. Ten Poland Chinas, the property of E. C. Bechtoldt, carried off first honors in Green-co, while Rock county's contest went to Chester Manther with a litter of 13 Durocs.

Four entries from Washington-co five from Jefferson and eight from Grant-co are still in the running for the big prize. Fond du Lac, Green Lake and Winnebago counties all promise to be on hand with their litters and entries from these counties are expected to give account of themselves in the finals.

LONELY ISLANDERS OBJECT TO RADIOS

By Associated Press
St. Kilda, Outer Hebrides — Although cut off from civilization since last August, for no steamer is able to fight its way through the storm and fog during the autumn and winter months, the 75, lonely inhabitants of this island look askance at the telegraph and will not use the wireless station which was built here during the war by the British.

Recently the West Highland steamer Hebrides sailed from the island of Lewis, the largest and most northerly of the Hebrides group, and thus broke St. Kilda's nine month's solitude by taking to it mails, provisions and other necessities.

During their isolated months the islanders send their letters to Lewis in a novel and remarkable way. They put them in a tin canister in sheepskin buoys and launch them when there is a gale of northwest wind. Sometimes the buoys get blown out of their course and take the letters thousands of miles, but very often they cross the 60 miles stretch of sea to Lewis island safely and are then posted from that place.

Public Sees Styles Of Fall Introduced In Egyptian Pageant

Fall Revue Is Staged Successfully First Time By Merchants At Chapel—Repeat Performance Tonight And Friday

While father clutched his pocket-book and made up his mind to hand all his next month's salary over to the various merchants' mother and sister Sue became ecstatic over one gorgeous gown and garment after another in the annual fall style revue shown in connection with the Appleton Memorial chapel on Wednesday evening. Several hundred people witnessed the gorgeous scenes of the pageant into which were introduced the fall styles presented by six Appleton merchants. The pageant will be repeated Thursday and Friday evenings.

The introduction of the pageant showed the coming and going of the four seasons followed by the dawn of autumn into which was introduced a pretty dance of the nymphs in which their god Pan fought with a barbarian to keep him away from the nymphs. The dance was well done and the bright red costumes gave the scene the touch of autumn color.

Harry Oaks as Haddi, the beggar and prophet, did some splendid acting in the second and third scenes of the pageant. Mrs. J. F. Bannister made a magnificent and imposing Cleopatra. The court dancers in striped Egyptian costume lent a touch of real atmosphere to the pillared court scene. This scene with all the attendants was one of the most elaborate ever put on in the chapel. The cymbal dancers also were effective, but perhaps the most attractive single feature of the evening was the dance of the snow maidens in which a number of Appleton's young society maidens took part.

QUEEN SEES STYLES
The prophet tells his queen that he sees ahead to a time when all shall be free and have beautiful clothes. By means of his prophetic power he transports the queen to the present day and the style revue is introduced. The finale is a picture of Uncle Sam and his army and navy. The ushers for the event included the members of the six stores and other employees. Music for the entire event was of the highest order. Under the direction of Percy Fullinwider, the 20-piece orchestra heightened the dramatic effects of the entire production, changing mood instantly as the occasion demanded.

Burton-Dawson clothes were introduced from a magic mortar into which much fairy material was placed before the models stepped forth in their beautiful gowns. In each scene the final gown was shown on a model as in a painting and then the artist assists the lady from the frame and she displays her gown with the others.

The men's models shown by Matt Schmidt and Son were introduced from a wardrobe trunk. Lester Balliet was soloist during this scene. All styles of men's clothes were shown including sportman's outfits.

One of the most interesting means of introducing models was through the fairy boudoir used by the Gloude-mans-Gage company. Mrs. H. A. DeBauer and Mrs. Harry Oaks as the ladies of the mirror were splendidly received. Miss Mary Thomas was the oil painting in this scene.

CINDERELLA ACT
Shoe models were shown with a Cinderella act in which Miss Harriet Kurz was the famous story-book lady who lost her slipper. The promenade in the show display, furnished by the Novelty Book shop, was made by couples who came through a large replica of Cinderella's slipper to get to the stage.

Geenen's models were introduced through the fan of the Duchess with Miss Maude Harwood as soloist throughout the scene. Miss Lillian Nelson was the oil painting.

The final scene was put on through a vanity case by models from the Pettibone-Peabody company. Miss Harwood was again the soloist and Miss Virginia O'Connor was the oil painting. Louis Lazar was the painter in all the scenes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bannister, who conceived and staged the pageant and revue are to be congratulated on its success. The unusual ways in which the styles were introduced and displayed held attention to the last. The staging of the entire production was exceptionally well done.

The style maidens included: Mrs. Al. Ness, Mrs. H. A. DeBauer, Virginia O'Connor, Florence Miller, Irene Morse, Mrs. S. C. Shannon, Mary Thomas, Ruth Beeler, Florence Leppla, Mrs. R. E. DeLong, Doris Hoffman, Ethel Thelen, Gertrude Wandel, Ellen Dunn, Alice Erickson, Dorothy Adelt, Marie Morris, Lorraine Deland, Miss Swanson, Mary Kanouse, Mrs. Beck, et al. Evelyn Nelson, Bernice Adelt, Frances Versteegen, Adell Ruberg, Ethel Van Camp, Mildred Schueler, Hattie Verboten, Marcella Kaufman, Lillian Nelson, Helen Schneider, Marjorie Bishop, Alice Jane DeLong, "Bud" Bonini, Emmet Verbrick, Norbert Verbrick, George Morris, Ralph C. McQuerry, Darrell Agneworth, S. M. Buchman, Dexter Chaffee and Elmer Schueler.

The proceeds of the pageant will go to Appleton Woman's club.

HARDING MEMORIAL STAMP EXPECTED AT P. O. SOON

The Harding memorial stamps which have been ordered by the Appleton postoffice have not yet arrived. The new 2-cent stamp was issued recently by the United States postal department as a memorial to the late president. Only a limited amount was printed, however. The quota of the Appleton postoffice is $5,000. It is expected that they will be here shortly. It usually takes about ten days for the stamps to be delivered, but because of the unusual demand for these stamps, it is presumed that the department is expediting some difficulty in filling the order promptly.

Trades and Labor council in Trades and Labor hall Wednesday evening to the pastors and congregations of the city for their cooperation in the observance of Labor Sunday. The spirit of the Ministerial association expressed in its response to the council's declaration of religious principles also was appreciated.

The committee on arrangements appointed at a previous meeting to be in charge of the Labor day celebration submitted a report. A handsome financial return was reported. Most of the business was of a routine nature.

MENASHA MAN IS NEAR VICTIM OF ACID GIVING PAIR

John Jankowski Found Unconscious in Soft Drink Parlor After Assault

Menasha—While sitting back, his feet elevated, and his mouth open in sleep, John Jankowski, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, 408 Racine-st., was given a drink of some powerful acid, which may result fatally. He was found lying unconscious on the floor at 11 o'clock Tuesday night, his lips and mouth badly burned by the acid.

Physicians were summoned and while Mr. Jankowski is still in serious condition, he regained consciousness long enough to tell a story of an attack almost paralleled in true life. He said he just recalls being awakened by the presence of two men, one of whom said: "Have a drink, John," and emptied the contents of a bottle into his mouth.

Awakened by the burning of the acid, he noted the two men leaving the place in great haste, one of them bumping against the stove as they went out. He noted that one had a straw hat on, but could not give any more detailed description. Mr. Jankowski said he recalled that milk was an antidote for poison, and he immediately drank a bottle of it, but before he could call assistance he became unconscious. It is supposed the milk saved his life.

It is believed it was about half an hour after the assault that the injured man was found by passersby. Search for the bottle failed to disclose its presence, but Mr. Jankowski's reputation and standing in the community is such as to cause belief in the truth of the story. He has had no family or financial trouble so far as can be ascertained, and no cause for attempted suicide can be found. Mr. Jankowski was formerly city treasurer of Menasha.

MORE HEARINGS ON HIGHWAYS COMING

Local Boosters For Calumet-co Route To Appleton Have Chance To Argue

Appleton boosters for a state highway leading into Calumet and Manitowoc counties will have another opportunity to present their case to the special legislative committee appointed to lay out 2,500 additional miles of state highways which now total 7,500 miles.

The committee still has another month to complete its task in conducting hearings at the various county seats. The final schedule of meetings announced includes 27 more hearings from Sept. 18 to Oct. 10.

A hearing will be held on Sept. 18

KAMPS BOYS HIT DENVER ON HIKE TO CALIFORNIA

Victor and Sherman Kamps, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kamps, 28 Sherman-pl., who are hiking to Los Angeles, Calif., and who planned on taking advantage of ride offered them, have reached Denver, Colo., after being on the road ten days.

After a several days' rest they will resume their journey and expect to reach their destination early next month. In the event they are favorably impressed with California, they will remain there the coming winter.

at Kewaunee, another on Sept. 19 at Manitowoc, another on Sept. 20 at Chilton and one on Sept. 22 at Fond du Lac.

Announcement of additions to the state highway system will be withheld until all hearings are completed. The last hearing will be on Oct. 10 in Madison.

FINISH PAVING ON STATE HIGHWAY 54

Highway 54 which has been under construction out of New Franken is now open to the public, giving a concrete surface from Green Bay almost to the Brown-co line. This makes two and three-fourth miles that has been added on the highway this season. The cost of this and a half mile stretch on county trunk T leading to the village from the south was $75,000.

The Winnebago-co roads under construction, the Oshkosh-Ripon and the Oshkosh-Fremont-Zittau roads, will be opened about Nov. 1, according to the latest announcement. The actual laying of the concrete is expected to be finished early in October, but it will take the rest of the month to make the roads usable.

HEALTH BUREAU KEEPS CONTAGION AT SAFE MINIMUM

Three Cases Reported By Felton—Births Many Times Death Rate.

Contagion in Appleton is again reduced to favorable minimum, as there is but one case of diphtheria, one case of scarlet fever and one case of whooping cough in the city, according to Dr. W. C. Felton, city health commissioner.

In his report on vital statistics for the month of August, he cites one case of diphtheria, one case of tuberculosis, two cases of measles and two cases of whooping cough. He took four cultures in the case of diphtheria. The new case reported is in the same family.

The population of Appleton was increased considerably last month, for there were more than seven times as many births as deaths, a record that has scarcely been equaled for years. Physicians reported 57 births and only eight deaths. There were also 14 marriages in the city, according to report of local clergymen.

Dr. Felton issued 11 birth permits, made out 114 copies of birth reports and 16 copies of death statistics for local county and state statistical records. As city physician he made nine visits to homes of poor and received eleven visits from the city poor.

George Merkel, deputy health officer, reports that he quarantined two homes, placarded two homes, fumigated two homes and released four homes from quarantine. He made 18 sanitary inspections and inspected 12 samples of milk and two samples of cream.

ON THE SCREEN

One may sum up the merits of "The Lonely Road," Katherine MacDonald's latest First National attraction, at the Elite Theatre last evening, by saying that it is remarkably good entertainment.

Admirers of the fascinating Miss MacDonald need only to be told that she is more beautiful than ever in the role of "Betty," the young wife of a struggling business man. That she has been given as her leading man Orville Caldwell, whom Ellnor Glynn has called "the most physically perfect man on the screen," and a strikingly original story, should make the satisfaction of the most fastidious picture patron complete.

B. P. Schulberg supplied all that remained to make the success of the picture certain when he named Victor Schertzinger as its director and selected a cast that leaves nothing to be desired. Every member of the company, from Miss MacDonald on down to the soulful-eyed Little Stanley Goethals—probably the most interesting child player on the screen—must have been named after the most careful consideration by director and producer.

This, the latest story by Charles Logue, relates the adventures of a youthful married couple who fail to find in one another the companionship for which they had yearned. Starting at the altar—where most stories end—it offers an intimate glimpse of an American home that every audience will quickly recognize.

"The Lonely Road" will be shown at the Elite tonight for the last time.

"LONE STAR RANGER" WITH MIX COMING

Tom Mix, beloved king of the saddle, and "Tony," his wonder horse, are coming to the Elite theatre tomorrow and Saturday in the William Fox screen version of "The Lone Star Ranger," the popular narrative from the pen of Zane Grey.

It is the story of the life of the daring Texas Ranger who went out to get their man despite the hazard and obstacle. It is such a stirring hard-riding part, replete with romance, that has made Tom the favorite film actor he is.

Lambert Hillier, who directed the photography, took his company to the plains of Texas that he might instill into the picture every element of beauty and interest that has become traditional to the Lone Star State.

Such a combination as Tom Mix and Zane Grey in the Fox production promises an excellent picture.

DE BAUFER PLANS TO ERECT BUILDING

DeBaufre Oil company is planning to make extensive improvements to its property at Appleton Junction, which will include a new combination warehouse, office and garage building, 107 by 40 feet in size.

The company has ordered and is expecting daily two additional oil tanks, each with a capacity of 20,000 gallons, which will make a battery of six with a total capacity of 120,000 gallons.

The new tanks and of the upgrade type and will be placed at the rear of the others. These now in place are to be moved further back so as to make room for building which will be erected early next spring.

POLAND SEEKS TO RESTORE LOSS OF YOUTH AFTER WAR

Warsaw — Poland's greatest loss of recent years has been, not in devastated regions, but in young men. Therefore physical education was stressed at a recent meeting of school masters in this city, and the government was urged to allot more money for the building of playgrounds and otherwise to assist in the building up of Polish youth.

Harvest Time Applies Also To Dan Cupid

According to the prognosticators of the courthouse this is going to be a busy month for the clergymen of Appleton and vicinity. To some couples, September compares well with June, for it is the month when the bright, sunny days are giving way to the mild autumn weather. Each day this week applications for licenses have been quite numerous in the office of John C. Hantschel, county clerk.

Seventeen licenses were applied for during the first ten weekdays of the month. The same number of licenses was requested during the same period last year. Thus far 263 applications have been filed, which is 12 less than last year. August was a distinct improvement over July, for 42 applications were filed in the former month, as compared with the 35 applications in July. August, 1922, showed only 22 applications, and July of that year only 22 applications. September last year was the next best month for marriages after June.

It is observed by the county clerk that Monday usually is the best day for marriage licenses. The theory advanced in explanation of this is that Sunday night is the best time "to pop the question." The question once popped, the couples hurry to the courthouse before anybody changes the mind of either.

Several applicants this week were much below the legal age and required the consent of the parents before the clerk could entertain an application for a license.

CALF CLUB BOYS THANK APPLETON FOR WELCOME

A letter from the secretary of the Michigan Calf club which stopped in Appleton on its tour during August has been received by the Appleton Chamber of Commerce thanking Appleton for the pleasant time which the boys had here. The letter, which was sent by A. G. Kettner, assistant state club leader, said that the banquet and swim which the boys had in Appleton were among the outstanding experiences of the entire trip.

GOOD YEAR

Worried With a Bad Back?

Is a lame aching back keeping you miserable? Are you tortured with sharp, stabbing pains? Feel weak, tired — "all played out"? Then look to your kidneys for these are common signs of kidney weakness. There may be headaches and dizziness, too, with annoying bladder irregularities. Don't risk serious kidney weakness. Help your weakened kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor.

Here's An Appleton Case:
Mrs. W. H. Kramer, 15 Hancock St., says: "I suffered from rheumatic pains and kidney trouble. At times, I was lame and had pains in all parts of my body. Headaches and lumbago kept me from work. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I improved rapidly. Finally I was better in every way."

$100,722 PAID IN AUTO LICENSES IN OUTAGAMIE-CO

State Revenue From Local Sources Among 12 Largest
Totals On Record

Of the total $4,798,430.23 which was paid in licenses by owners of motor vehicles to the state of Wisconsin, Outagamie-co drivers paid $100,722.50. Of this amount $24,351.19 was apportioned back to the county for highway purposes.

Those paying license fees over $100, 000 are:

Brown County $169,213.75.
Dane county $221,242.25.
Dodge county $108,463.50.
Fond du Lac county $122,086.25.
Manitowoc county $100,105.50.
Milwaukee county $845,251.75.
Outagamie county $100,722.50.
Racine county $108,406.00.
Rock county $145,239.25.
Sheboygan county $125,595.25.
Waukesha county $107,791.50.
Winnebago county $111,091.50.

A grand total of $4,798,430.23 was the amount received from the motor vehicle license law during the fiscal year.

From this amount a sum of $161,581.48 was deducted for expenses incurred by the secretary of state's office, incidental to administration of the 410,000 cars now registered under Wisconsin's laws.

After minor refunds for cancellations of license had been made a total of $4,629,276.77 was available for distribution to the counties and for the highway appropriation. Twenty-five percent of $1,157,319.15 of this figure has been apportioned to the counties for construction and maintenance of highways according to the figures just compiled at the office of the secretary of state. The remainder, $3,471,957.62, 75 per cent is the appropriation for the highway commission.

Local Traction Company Is Linked Up With Gigantic
Wireless Enterprise

Because the Wisconsin Traction Light Heat and Power company is a subsidiary of the North American company, Appleton people are watching with interest the experiment which the big company is making with "wired wireless" apparatus which can be attached to the electric light connections. The North American company has the patent rights on the apparatus which simply screws into the light fixture or wall socket and is performing a large number of experiments to prove its utility.

The Wired Radio Service company has been organized to handle the new system commercially. It plans to build and rent sets ranging from $2 a month for a head telephone set to $5 a month for the large cabinet loud speaker sets. When these sets become universally used, the radio industry will have become a great factor in the daily lives of the people.

Prophets Are At It Again--Tell Us Early And Cold Winter Due

If you believe in signs, then put on your best doleful manner and your sweetest smile, for we are going to have an early winter, and it will be long and cold. If the prophecy fails, and the weather turns out otherwise, kill the weather man and not the writer of this article.

The first warning of the shivery days came from a resident on the Mackville rd when he looked ominously at the great prevalence of crickets. Retail coal dealers at once rubbed their hands with glee.

Not to be outdone by so stirring a prognostication a mushroom bug of DePere raised his hands in prophecy, pointing by way of corroboration to the big mushroom crop. The white vegetables certainly did remind one of snowballs.

A few Fourth ward "old settlers" suddenly became alarmed over the early appearance of rats, like the doughboys of old, they are "digging in." All this caused people to think of laying in a supply of "rough on rats" as well as coal.

In the olden days an abundance of hickory nuts, walnuts, butternuts and hazel nuts was an infallible sign of an early winter, and the scarcity of nuts this year relieved the anxiety of the farmers. But, upsetting all hopes for a mild winter, the squirrels have taken to acorns. It is said that they are working overtime in storing up for the winter.

Another infallible sign is the thickness of corn husks. Nature, it is said, is protecting itself against an early advent and a long stay of Old Man Winter.

It is still too early to say anything about the shape of the goose's wishbone, as it is still too far from hatching time for that article, too, has something to indicate in the nature of the coming winter. The same may be said of the spleen of a hog.

It is unfortunate that there is but one species of groundhog—the kind that peeps out of its hole on Feb. 2—and no autumn weather animal to help anxious folks out of a quandary. Nevertheless, if the wild ducks and geese have not commenced their southward migration, the summer tourists have.

But if one is in search for further confirmation of all these authentic signs, Indian summer, the autumnal equinox, the winter solstice and the fall and winter ember days will give food for further speculation.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week will be ember days, and the direction of the wind and the condition of the weather on the first of these days are to some a guide to the nature of the weather for next season.

WOMEN JURORS READY TO SERVE ON FALL PANEL

Women jurors probably will be drawn to try cases in the September term of circuit court. Of the special women's questionnaire prepared by Judge Edgar V. Werner and sent out to women of the county by Harry A. Shannon, clerk of circuit court, 37 women are in a position to serve. Six women have been drawn for the September term of court, which will open next Monday. The official court calendar is now at the press.

BADGER POTATO FALLS ONE-THIRD

Madison—The Wisconsin potato crop for 1923 will be reduced one-third below that of 1922, with an estimated production of 27,000,000 bushels announced by the state crop reporting service. The crop totaled 41,000,000 bushels last year.

Marked changes are said to have taken place in the condition of the crop throughout the state, although

The crop in the northern counties and including part of the Waupaca district is said by Paul Nyhus, crop reporter, to be promising, with a yield of 84 per cent of a normal yield looked for. Drought conditions in this section of the state were not severe during August.

The D. O. of Bukit-Iban, an unpleasant taste in his mouth, glanced appealingly at Dawson; but Dawson was thoughtfully examining the safety-catch of his automatic and did not look up.

The screams came again and Moorhouse jammed his fingers in his ears.
He hardly remembered the details of that retreat. There was something about Pennington that made men follow him, or the magistrate would never have come at all.

"Phew," ejaculated Dawson as soon as they were back at the original track. "That was a trifle too near to be pleasant!" He winked at Pennington. "Gentlemen, you may smoke!"

He held his case to Moorhouse, who did not appear to notice it, and to Pennington, who shook his head. The stout man lit up cheerfully. "Discretion," he observed sententiously, "is the better part of valor! With a bit of luck, Moorhouse, old son, we shall arrive at your palatial residence in time for a cheering cup of tea."

The pent-up feelings of Denis Moorhouse at length found utterance.

"They were murdering that girl," he said.

Chinese Pennington dropped a heavy hand on the other's shoulder. "I should make myself quite easy on that score. Chai-Hung doesn't murder pretty women who are likely to be of service to him."

Whether Miss Guaya was aware of it or not, the ambush we were within an ace of walking into had been long and carefully prepared.

"That doesn't account for the screams."

"Some people scream before they are hurt."

"I don't quite follow you."

"He means to say," put in Dawson, inhaling tobacco smoke with the air of a parched wanderer in the desert quenching his thirst, "that the bandit merely threatened her. He can be a mighty unpleasant spectacle when he likes."

"I hope to heaven you're right."

"The more I think of it," pursued Pennington, "the more feasible it seems. Guaya, you must remember, is a consummate actress—and her efforts certainly struck me as highly theatrical."

"Where are we now?" demanded Moorhouse gloomily.

"A shade better off than when we started. We know that the Yellow Seven are here in considerable force, and that the united efforts of three perfectly good white men armed with automatics would be about the foremost hope ever embarked upon."

"They passed through the screen of cocoanuts and emerged on to the strip of grassland in which Moorhouse's bungalow lay."

Moorhouse, hardly awake, reached down automatically for the blanket at the bottom of the bed. Suddenly, as his numb faculties began to return to him, he started and blinked vacantly at the white canopy above him. Somewhere close at hand a dog was barking. Ten seconds later he had woken to the realization that it was the black chow and that the sound came from the veranda.

"Shut up, Hittam! Lie down!"

And then—something black and shadowy slid noiselessly within the rectangle of light and out of it again.

The D. O., experiencing that uncomfortable sensation that is invariably associated with a surprise in the early hours, forced his muscles to act and groped under the pillow for his automatic. His fingers touched nothing but the crumpled edge of the sheet. Always a restless sleeper, his pillow lay—a shapeless mass—to one side, and the weapon had presumably dropped to the floor without waking him. Swearing softly to himself, he reached down, groping uncertainly in all directions. The "finger" passed through the screen of a light breeze, touched his cheek and, bringing his head suddenly upward, he saw—as if dangled from the bedpost—a silver hand. The thing hovered there glittering in the patch of light, and for some moments he stared at it. He withdrew his gaze with an effort, a wild hope reviving in his brain.

"Guaya!" The words formed themselves upon his lips. He had not seen her since that strategic retreat from the bandit sentries. Perhaps she sought him and, failing to find him there, had come to his room? He looked up again. The apparition was still where he had first seen it. He pushed himself upward on his arms—then sank back mute with silent horror. The thing was a left hand—the gauntlet that Chai-Hung had stolen!

He wriggled over on to his face and sent his trembling fingers over the rough floor. They knocked presently against something soft and warm—a human foot! He set his teeth grimly. He must somehow manage to slip out from the other side—between the bed and the partition—and snatch up the water jar, anything with which to defend himself. The bed creaked as he moved and the curtains parted. A lean hand fell upon either wrist and, from out of the corner of his eye, he saw that the silver hand had vanished. There hung in its place a knife with a long thin blade and a hilt that he knew was yellow.

He aimed a kick at the arm which held it suspended, but it moved swiftly upward and the force of his blow was spent upon empty air. He could catch his shadowy outline as it hesitated before descending, and then—the door of the room swung open and the light of a hurricane-lamp illuminated the whole apartment. The grip on his wrists relaxed and tightened again before he could wrench himself free. The lamp stood unguarded on the threshold, as if it had come there of its own accord, and Moorhouse recognized at one and the same time the man who held him and the creature with the knife: Nyi-Hau—and the great Chai-Hung!

He struggled with renewed violence, tore one hand from the powerful fingers that encircled it and hit out at Nyi-Hau with all the force he could put behind it. The man recoiled and the magistrate, rolling to one side, avoided the fall of the knife by a hair's-breadth. He caught the fierce breath of the bandit—and a third form, gliding stealthily from behind the door, pushed between Chai-Hung and his lieutenant. It was Guaya! Her garment was torn and travel-stained and her black hair fell in waves over her dark shoulders.

Moorhouse did not understand the meaning of her disheveled tresses, until the dagger with the jeweled hilt sped forward. She drove it with triumphant force between Nyi-Hau's shoulders—and the creature pitched headlong across the D. O.

Struggling to free himself of his nauseous burden, Moorhouse did not see how Guaya died. He heard her little, pained cry and threw Nyi-Hau from him to discover Chai-Hung forcing his great bulk through the window frame, leaving his knife behind.

The automatic caught his eye. He vaulted to the floor and, snatching it up, emptied the entire clip into the tropic stillness. Presently he saw that the silver hand had escaped the fugitive and rolled to a corner.

"Guaya," he whispered softly, "I have brought your hand."

He fell on his knees beside her, thinking that she had fainted, but the shapely shoulders that his fingers touched were unresponsive.

"The Barrier of Fire," the next episode of this gripping series, will start in our next issue.

5,500 CATTLE FOR EDISON LABOR CAMP

By Associated Press

Cascadia, Calif. — Slaughter of 5,500 head of cattle was started Wednesday far back in the high Sierras thirty miles from here, as one of the final moves in the preparation of winter food supplies for 2,000 men, who, beginning next month, will be snowed in for seven months. These men are in four construction camps of the Edison Big Creek-San Joaquin power project, drilling out a 13 mile tunnel through solid granite from what will be known as Florence reservoir to Huntington lake. Great quantities of dynamite, three carloads having been stored at the camp.

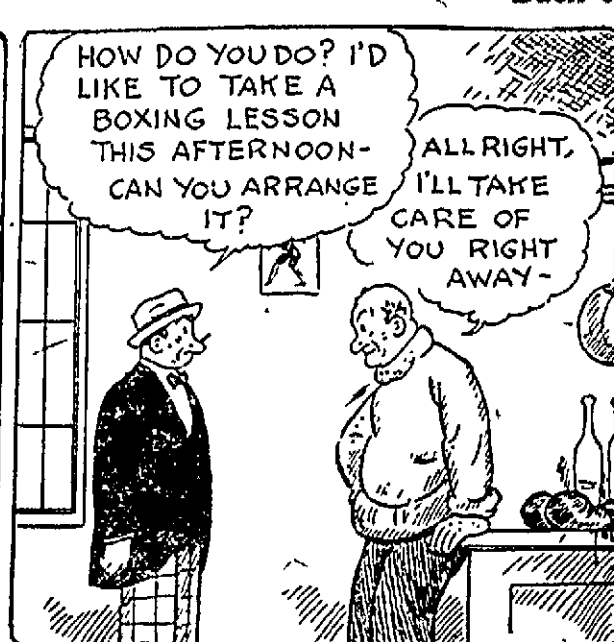

While the temperature at times grows to 20 degrees below zero in this region the temperature of the granite tunnel in which the crews are working is about 60 degrees above.

Pretty Home Helps Bring Family Joy

New York — Have a care for the wall paper if you would, hold your husband. The quarrel you had last night may have been due solely to the large yellow popples on the dining-room wall.

For husbands can't be discontented in tasteful homes, says Mrs. Penrhyn Stanlaws, the noted artist's wife. She's setting out to prove it. Having converted an old farm house into a lovely bit of colonial beauty for her own use, and having for years "made over" her friends' homes, she's embarking on an honest-to-goodness career as interior decorator.

"Nobody can tell," she says, "the suffering golden oak living-room 'sets' have caused.

"Men may not realize it, but they're the first victims of ugly furniture, garish wall paper and glaring lights.

"After a hard day's work, a man has a right to a restful home. His ash tray should be at his elbow, magazines and papers on the table, he should have an easy chair, a hassock, and a soft light to read by."

Any woman can have beauty in her home, thinks Mrs. Stanlaws.

"Why not eat in the kitchen?" she queries. "Any kitchen can be lovely if it is sweet and clean, with gingham window curtains and a flower pot on the sill. Kitchen chairs can be painted. I bought five once for $6.50 at a junk shop. Painted, they were lovely.

"It's just as easy to have beauty in the rest of the house. Clear out all furniture except what is absolutely needed. Forego the gold framed picture you were going to get. Spend the money on plain wall paper.

"Hunt up a bit of chintz, put it in a cheap wooden frame and paint the frame one of those funny Chinese reds. Buy a $1.95 vase—one with soft yellows, greens or browns—and put a single flower in it. Set a book and a shaded lamp near by. You'll have a corner as lovely as a chapel niche."

When you've done all this, she avers, you'll have a happier, better husband.

Mary And Norma Both Juliets In Two Movies Coming Out Soon

Hollywood — "Romeo, oh Romeo, where art a couple of thous?" Mary Pickford and Norma Talmadge may unite their silvery voices in this plea. For both Mary and Norma are going to film "Romeo and Juliet," each, of course, as Juliet.

This rivalry should prove interesting to screen viewers. The competitors in Shakespeare's most romantic drama will be the acknowledged two most popular women of motion pictures.

And their Romeos? Mary (naturally) wants Doug Fairbanks to be her Romeo on the screen as well as at home in Beverly Hills. (And what a balcony scene it would be with Doug, the leaping Nijinski of the photomontage, the premier of all climbers.)

Norma's Romeo will be that lithe young giant, Joseph Schildkraut, dramatic sensation of New York's Broadway.

Schildkraut is now doing his first work before the camera in "Dust of Desire," an oriental story by Margaret Peterson, that Chester Franklin and Frances Marion are co-directing. And in "Dust of Desire" Schildkraut is playing opposite Norma Talmadge.

WANTED NORMA It was Schildkraut who suggested "Romeo and Juliet" to Norma Talmadge. He was eager to play Romeo on the screen, and told Norma he'd like her as his Juliet. A few days later Joseph Schenck (who is Norma's husband as well as producer) announced that "Romeo and Juliet" would be her vehicle next spring.

Mary Pickford was the first to announce her plan to play Juliet. Her announcement came when she signed Ernst Lubitsch, the Austrian spectacle-master, who directed her in "Rostia," to direct her in three more pictures, one a year. And the first was to be "Romeo and Juliet."

EARLE CHOSE MARY It is interesting to note that the suggestion that Mary Pickford play Juliet originally came from Ferdinand Earle, the artist-director.

Earle made the suggestion in self-defense after Mary announced she would play Marguerite in a film version of "Faust."

This prospect was rather disconcerting to Earle, who had put more than a year's time and labor on exhaustive research in his preparations to present Goethe's philosophical drama in motion picture form.

NORMA TALMADGE

MARY PICKFORD

So Earle publicly welcomed the lovely and popular Mary as a competitor, but at the same time pointed out that Marguerite was hardly Mary's type of role and that the "Faust" of Goethe had very little to say about that feminine character anyway.

Ferdinand Earle urged that Mary appear as Juliet, a classical role he said Shakespeare might have written especially for her.

When letters came pouring into Mary from her myriad friends, most of them taking the same stand, America's sweetheart abruptly dropped her "Faust" plans, on which Lubitsch had already done considerable work.

Poor little Mary meets competition whenever she turns to the classics, it seems. Now here's Norma Talmadge as her rival. No statement has come from the Pickford studio since Norma announced her Juliet ambitions, but it is unlikely Mary will give up this cherished idea.

Juliet has always been a cause for rivalry among actresses. Last season saw Ethel Barrymore and Jane Cowd presenting the role on the New York stage. And back in 1916 two film versions of "Romeo and Juliet" were made, one with Theda Bara and the other with Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne.

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO MRS. MARY ALDEN PRESCOTT

Good God, mother! Are you crazy? For one minute it seemed to me that instead of writing you a letter I should jump on the train with some brain specialist and take him down to see if it would be necessary to put you in a sanitarium.

What are you thinking of when you let that scandal-breathing, venomous snake of a Priscilla Bradford poison your mind with her pealous insinuations of one of the sweetest and dearest women on earth, a woman whose shoes your miserable son is unworthy to remove from her dainty feet?

Were you not my mother, I—

Well, I will not tell you what I would do.

It is too monstrous, this thing that you have written me. I can hardly speak the word "divorce" in connection with Leslie, let alone write it.

If anything should happen that I should be separated from Leslie, I would want to die. The greatest happiness I have ever known has been since Leslie has been my wife.

There is one thing, however, I am sure of and that is, if you did not happen to be my mother I would never think of making you any explanation about Leslie's being in New York. I would consider it was none of your business.

You had better let me come in contact with that precious Priscilla Bradford of yours unless you want me to do her some physical violence.

The idea of her going about the town and trying to find where Karl Whitney and Leslie are registered! Deliver me from the nastiness contained in some women's minds who call themselves good.

Just let me tell you one thing right now. I can't make you apologize to Leslie for I would not have her hurt by the knowledge that anyone could think such terrible things of her, but I can make you stay away from her until you have apologized to me for your nasty observations and insinuations. I do not want you even to write to me.

Alice Hamilton is going to Europe. Leslie went down to join her mother and father there and see the child off. It is very probable that, as Karl Whitney has been a friend of the family ever since he was a little boy, he was asked to go along.

I do not care what excuse there is for his visit. If Leslie wanted to go with him to any public place for the evening, that was her right and, of course, if he was there with her he was perfectly happy and probably showed his pride and joy at being able to take as beautiful a girl as my wife to a smart restaurant.

As for Leslie's smoking cigarettes, that is merely a question of taste. She does not break one of your precious commandments by bearing false witness against her neighbor, at least by implication and insinuation.

I don't think I was ever as angry with anyone in my life as I am with you. I am ashamed you are my mother. Perhaps I shouldn't have said that, but I shall let it stand.

Bringing a child into the world is a prerogative that any woman shares with every other female thing on this earth. It requires no brains, no reasoning powers, no sympathy, no soul to bear a child. Only physical strength to bear physical pain is necessary. And yet you say that mothers always understand.

I dare not write more for it would be something worse than I have said.

TOMORROW: Leslie's letter to her husband—Explaining her New York visit.

now 66, was a farmer at Okemah, Okla. Stephen, 64, was prospering on his land at Thankerville, Okla.

GRANDSON STARTS QUEST William, now 62, was living the quiet life of a clergyman at Mangum, Okla. His eldest son, H. G. L. Busby, likewise had heard the call of the church and had been ordained a minister.

On the shoulders of the younger man William unloaded the task of seeking the long-lost mother.

Young Busby became pastor of a charge here in Franklin. In his spare hours he traveled miles into the surrounding country, stopping at every farmhouse and inquiring for information of his grandmother.

Finally, on an errand of mercy, Busby stopped one night for food at an isolated farmhouse near Marquez. Replying to questions, he told the farm woman of his quest.

"Why, there's a woman just a piece down the road who's spent her life hunting for her three sons," said the farm woman.

Leaving his dinner untouched young Busby leaped into his sliver and went to the indicated farmhouse.

There he found Mrs. Busby—now Mrs. Dukes, for she had remarried. She told Busby her story.

"Your grandmother," he said. Telegrams brought the three sons to Marquez as soon as they could travel.

"My only wish in life has been fulfilled," Mrs. Dukes said.

Women Are Not Apt Pupils In Learning Golf

Chicago — "The difference between men and women when they take up golf is this:

"The woman listens to instructions and says, 'Yes, I see,' when she doesn't understand at all.

"The man looks at the instructor as if he were saying, 'You talk a lot, but I don't think you know what it means; you've got to prove it to me.'"

"And the men golfers get along faster because of that attitude."

ONE OF A FEW It is a woman talking—one of a small handful of women professional golf instructors. She is Mrs. R. S. Weinshenker, head of the thriving "Deals Golf School" here. Besides giving golf lessons she conducts a golf shop and makes clubs at her work bench. A month ago she took on the new job of mothering her own husky, kicking baby boy.

She stepped out as a pioneer woman, an golf instructor four years ago. Before that she had been simply an athlete and attractive saleswoman in the golf department of a downtown store. In those days she was Deal Proudfoot. Then on the golf course one day she met the man who was to be her husband. He wasn't a golfer of championship class, as she was, but they fell in love.

SCHOOL KEPT BUSY "Men don't flock to a woman golf instructor as they do to a pretty manicurist," says the proprietor of "Deals School." "Business was pretty slow at first. But it is built up now so that we have as much as we can take care of."

The baby isn't going to interfere with the golf school. Mrs. Weinshenker has been used to a crowded rushing life, and she will see that the baby is cared for in addition to her other duties. The boy may play golf as much as he likes—but he must never become skillful enough to beat his mother.

BORNEO MAY BE DEVELOPED INTO BIG RUBBER SOURCE

By Associated Press Manila, P. I. — British North Borneo has hundreds of thousands of acres suitable for the growing of rubber, according to Sir William Rycroft, governor of that territory who is in Manila for a short visit. He said the Japanese have large concessions at Tawao on the east coast of Borneo, where they have 20,000 acres planted to rubber.

Adventures Of The Twins

The Goodlies The next place in Rainbow Land where the Twins went with Mister Sky Bow was the place where the Goodlies lived.

The Goodlies were not beautiful. They were far from it. Indeed they were ugly, for their eyes stuck out like the lamps on an automobile and it gave them the appearance of inquisitive beetles standing on their hind legs.

"How do you do?" said a Googly, stepping up and tipping his hat. "We've been expecting you for five hours and forty minutes and sixteen seconds. You are late."

"Why?" exclaimed Nancy. "How did you know we were coming?"

"Never ask a Googly how he knows anything," said the Googly importantly. "These eyes of ours were not made for nothing. Some people have necks that stretch. Others have ears that stretch. When there are secrets to be heard, but we have eyes that stretch. Look!"

And before the Twins could so much as wink, hadn't the Googly shot his great eyes up like sky-rockets and brought them down again! "A ha! I knew it!" he cried. "The Emperor of China is having bird's nests for lunch. I can see around the world with these eyes of mine. Anything you wish to know?"

"Oh, yes, yes," cried Nick. "Please tell me what Santa Claus is doing And Mrs. Claus and everybody."

"H'm! Just wait!" said the Googly shooting up his eyes again. "Santa Claus is painting a word on an express wagon. It says 'Nick.' And Mrs. Claus is making a doll dress. Now she's pinning a paper on it. It says 'Nancy.'"

Then the Googly brought his eyes down again. "Oh, my!" sighed Nancy happily. "I wish I were a Googly. You'd never have to study at all you'd know everything!"

Some Mock Dishes Are Richer Than Original

Probably the oldest of all the "mock" dishes was mock turtle soup. This is such a well-known soup and so well liked that no one would think of it now as a sham or imitation. It really doesn't taste like turtle soup. It is good enough in itself. In a very modest recipe for this delicacy 19 different ingredients are called for, including a calf's head, mushrooms and chopped ham. Besides it takes all day to make it, with at least four hours' cooking. So in this busy day few housewives would want to attempt it.

Next to mock turtle in point of age comes "mock duck." And this, like mock turtle, really bears precious little resemblance to real duck—but unlike the mock turtle, it is economical and not too difficult to make. One rule calls for a flank steak, cut rather thick. The steak is spread with a rather dry and well-seasoned bread mixture and is then tied. Now brown the roll in hot grease, and when brown all over remove to a casserole. Make a gravy from the fat left in the pan, adding tomato juice and seasoning, and pour this over the meat in the casserole and cook (covered) in the oven for an hour and a half.

EVEN SAUCE IS "MOCKED" There is a mock pork that is made by stuffing a white summer squash with savory bread crumbs and cooking it in the oven, basting it with bacon fat. And a mock beef is made of arranged layers of Hubbard squash, onions and carrots in a casserole, covering with beef stock, and seasoning with Worcester-shire sauce.

There is a mock hollandaise sauce, much easier to make than the original, and hardly distinguishable from it.

PRAYING WOMAN OF 98 FINDS SON AT END OF 58 YEARS

Children Kidnaped After Civil War Found By Mrs. Pollyanna Busby

Franklin, Tex.—For 58 years Mrs. Pollyanna Busby, 96, has prayed nightly.

She has asked that her three sons, stolen from her at the close of the Civil war, be returned.

Now the three sons, grown to manhood and fathers of families, have been reunited with their aged mother. It looks like a queer twist of fate. But, says Mrs. Busby—

"It is only an answer to my prayers. It is a proof of the potency of prayer."

Here is the story—a story equal in its pathos and heart interest to Longfellow's tale of Evangeline and Gabriel:

In 1865 Mrs. Busby was living happily in Meridian, Miss., with her three sons—William, 8; Henry, 5; and Stephen, 4. The father, a Confederate soldier, had been slain at Vicksburg.

At that time vast numbers of families in the war-torn Confederacy were emigrating to seek their fortunes in Texas.

One of these emigrants was the Meridian village doctor, William and Henry, the two older Busby boys, interestedly watched the physician as he loaded his meager household supplies into his ox-cart.

"Jump in, boys, and I'll give you a ride," said the doctor.

That ride did not end until the boys, their resistance conquered by blows with ox-whips, reached the doctor's claim in Texas. There they were reduced to the status of peons, laboring on the farm without pay and subjected to cruel mistreatment.

They finally effected their escape. Working from farm to farm, they reached the Oklahoma frontier.

There they grew to manhood. They labored hard, saved their earnings, married, bought farms, prospered.

ONE ENTERS CLERGY William, a man of strong religious convictions, finally became a Baptist minister.

Meanwhile, back in Mississippi Stephen, the youngest son, who was stolen and taken to Texas. He escaped, went to Oklahoma and settled on a farm there.

More than a quarter of a century ago Henry and William learned of Stephen's identity.

They believed their mother had emigrated to Texas.

At the beginning of this year their search for her was still on. Henry

Reo 5 Passenger

A 5 passenger 1917 Reo touring car in good mechanical condition. Good tires. Car just repainted and new top job. Upholstering in good condition. Equipped with bumper.

This car should appeal to the man who wants to make frequent hunting trips this fall. Perhaps you do not want to use your present car for the rough usage it will receive on hunting trips. This car is in good running condition and will not represent much of an outlay. A good idea would be for a hunting club or a group of men who hunt together to buy this Reo thus eliminating their own cars from hard usage.
